OMAHA—(P)—Receding flood waters were expected to give up the remainder of their dead in besieged southeast Nebraska today.

The death count stood at 17 from the rolling, devastating walls of water built up by rains of up to eight inches late Monday and early yesterday.

Seven bodies had been recovered. All hope for the safety of the other ten missing persons was abandoned.

Most of the dead were highway travelers caught by rampaging waters. Autos were swept from highways, draws and valleys suddenly became river-like waterways and peaceful little streams ran completely amok.

The flood ranked as one of Nebraska's major weather catastrophes. The death total compared to 13 in a flash flood which hit Cambridge in southwest Nebraska in 1947. In the currently affected area, the floods were as bad or worse as any in nearly a half century.

One by one, until darkness last night, bodies were recovered. Several were found in farm fields, blocks and even miles from where disaster overtook them.

The 500 residents of Dewitt, a town about 30 miles south of Lincoln, eyed the discouraging business of returning to their homes.

Nearly all day yesterday the town was isolated.

Telephone and telegraph lines were down, all highways were flood-blocked and the entire town had water at least two feet deep.

National Guardsmen established contacts with "ducks," amphibious military trucks. The ducks transported the town's doctor on his rounds, brought water to substitute for the town's polluted supply, and carried food supplies. A plane dropped typhoid serum.

Turkey Creek, which runs through the town and which caused all the trouble, was expected to go back into its banks today. Meanwhile, folks with homes that could be lived in shared their quarters with less fortunate neighbors.

Williams Asks Solons To Take Time On Budget

LANSING—(P)—Governor Williams appealed to the Republican-controlled legislature in a radio talk last night not to ram through its "economy" budget without ample time for public reaction.

Under the legislature's present schedule, Williams said the budget bills "will have to be shoved through in the last few days of the session."

He asserted the budget is being drafted by "a few legislators" and that most lawmakers have no idea of what is planned.

Urging the lawmakers not to "make haste too swiftly," Williams said "it has taken eight weeks to develop the projected budget in closed sessions. Certainly the press, the radio and the people as a whole should have at least a couple of weeks to weigh the results before they are finally enacted into law."

Hunt For Port Huron Lost Boy Returns To St. Clair River

PORT HURON, Mich.—(P)—The search for missing Brian Marshall, 2½, today returned to the St. Clair river, which skirts the yard from which he disappeared May 1.

To spur the river hunt, both the Port Huron Times Herald and Brian's wealthy foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Erd Marshall, posted rewards of $250 for anyone finding the body in the stream.

Whether he drowned or was abducted still was a mystery, but all kidnapping leads unearthed by reward offers totaling $2,500 have failed to pay off.

Both the Detroit News and the family offered $1,000 to anyone finding the child, if he were kidnapped. The Times Herald has posted $500.

Racketeers Become New Rich Of U. S. A; Sen. Ferguson Says

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today the nation's racketeers are investing big money in legitimate business to become America's "new rich."

And he added there is danger that these underworld leaders will make a deliberate effort to sidetrack a Senate investigation of big-time gambling and organized crime.

Vice President Barkley is expected to throw the crime inquiry into high gear very shortly by announcing the names of the five senators who will form the special investigating committee.

'DUCK' RESCUES FLOOD VICTIMS—Willard Dubuque hands his 2-year-old daughter Ellen to his wife in a Minnesota National Guard "duck" at Crookston as the family is evacuated after being trapped for two days. Half the homes in the Crookston area were either flooded or isolated by water. (NEA Telephoto)

Pooling Of Europe's Coal And Steels Proposed By France

By SYDNEY MIRKIN

LONDON—(P)—A French proposal to pool Europe's coal and steel was seen here today as a possible solution to a major cold war problem facing the west—how to integrate Germany's economy into the Western Front.

Western diplomats here for the Big Three talks beginning tomorrow call such German cooperation the most important step necessary to bolster the west against Russia.

Announcing the plan approved by the French cabinet, Foreign Minister Robert Schuman proposed that the pooling start with France's own rich Lorraine and Saar areas and Germany's industrial Ruhr Valley.

West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer quickly termed the proposal a "generous step by France towards Germany."

The French plan, he continued, appeared to "create the preconditions for making any future conflict between France and Germany impossible."

At the same time Adenauer announced his government already was planning a step toward participation in European unity.

Adenauer said his cabinet had accepted an invitation for West Germany to enter the council of Europe as an associate member. It would have an advisory status in the council's consultative assembly but would not be represented on the controlling committee of foreign ministers.

Schuman proposed that a "common high authority" would control the Franco-German coal and steel output, and that other European countries "East or West," would be invited to join the pool.

France already controls the coal mines of the near-autonomous Saar region, which was attached to Germany before World War II. West Germany's Ruhr mines now are under international control of the Allied occupation authorities.

Democrats Get Backing In AFL

By HERB ALTSCHULL

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—The AFL drive to back "fair deal" Democrats in the November elections was gathering momentum today.

The union's national executive council, in week-long session here, put its stamp of approval on a 10-cent-per-member assessment for the educational campaign of the Labor League for political education.

And the league, also meeting here, announced that it plans to launch a special drive in June and July to collect a $2-per-member assessment on AFL unionists for the league's political activity.

Both assessments were described by AFL President William Green at a news conference late yesterday as "voluntary."

The assessments must be voluntary to comply with provisions of the Taft-Hartley act which prohibits unions from compelling its members to contribute to any form of political activity.

Rail Strike Begins; 18,000 Firemen Quit

Cold War May Run Long Time, Truman Says

Atomic Strength Of U. S. Gets Boost

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN—(P)—President Truman acted today to bolster the nation's atomic strength as he held out the grim prospect that the cold war with Russia will continue "for a long, long time."

He disclosed, in a speech at Pocatello, Idaho, the signing of the National Science Foundation Act. He said it will keep the United States ahead in scientific developments and help it "exert a more vital force for peace."

Force For Peace

The critical international situation was uppermost in the president's expressed thoughts as he began the first of 14 talks on a swing through Idaho and Oregon.

"The first atomic explosion in history took place in the desert of New Mexico in July, 1945," he said in a speech to his trainside audience at Pocatello.

"I decided at that time that I would do my utmost to see that this new discovery was used in a way which would make the world a better place to live in."

"Nothing that has happened since 1945 has shaken by resolve to see that great force is used for peace."

In a separate statement, Mr. Truman said the act, creating an independent agency to promote scientific research, will add to the supply of knowledge which is "indispensable to our continued growth, prosperity, and security."

No Quick Way Out

"The fact that the world has not found post-war security in no way lessens the need for the National Science Foundation," he emphasized. "On the contrary, it underscores this need."

The Pocatello speech followed a solemn foreign policy address last night at Laramie, Wyo., in which he promised ultimate victory for the free nations in their struggle against the "new and terrible tyranny" of Russia.

"This is a long-time project," the president asserted. "I know that the American people are impatient. But in this instance, we must be more than patient."

"The conflict that exists in world affairs will be with us for a long, long time."

"There is no quick way, no easy way, to end it."

He gave assurance, however, that "the non-Communist nations

Flood Drives 25,000 From Winnipeg Homes

WINNIPEG, Man.—(P)—Women and children were asked today to move out of stricken Winnipeg, threatened by the rising waters of the rampaging Red River.

Brig. R. E. A. Morton, flood relief controller, said the appeal was issued in an attempt to relieve overtaxed city facilities. He emphasized it was an appeal and not an order.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police prepared to remove remaining residents along the Red River from greater Winnipeg to the U. S. border, 60 miles south.

The flooded river has already cut all railways and highways through the Red River Valley to the international line.

The Canadian Pacific railway suspended operations on its Soo Line until the flood subsides. The last train went over the line last night. Other rail lines were severed a few days ago. Highways have been cut in dozens of places.

Meanwhile 10,000 residents of suburban St. Vital were being evacuated.

Mayor Elsworth Bole of suburban St. Vital, south of the main city, told his people to complete evacuation within three days. The river, he said, would "gradually" pour in 2½ feet of water to make the entire area, with its thousands of homes, one gigantic lake.

Bill To Extend Draft Pushed

Washington—(P)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee said today he is trying to hurry House action on a bill to extend the draft for two more years.

Vinson said he was going before the rules committee to ask that procedure be set up under which the bill will be debated.

The draft law expires June 24, and Vinson wants the House to take up the proposed extension immediately after it finishes with the pending appropriations bill.

Vinson said he expects the House to approve the draft extension measure which provides that inductions will be made until congress has declared a national emergency requiring an increase in the armed strength.

Flies To Washington

Diesel Dispute Walkout Hits Four Key Lines

Federal Mediators Fail To Make Deal

CHICAGO—(P)—A strike of railroad firemen today crippled service on four railroad systems stretching from coast to coast.

As the strike became 100 per cent effective at 8 a. m. central standard time, federal mediators who talked with union leaders through the night still were hopeful of a quick settlement.

Extra Man Demanded

The dispute centers on the firemen's demand for a second fireman in the cabs of multiple unit diesel locomotives. The carriers contend the extra man is unnecessary and deny the union claim that safety factors are involved.

Pickets representing the 18,000 firemen on strike appeared at key points on the four systems—the Pennsylvania and New York Central, serving territory from Chicago eastward; the Southern Railway, a key line of Dixie, and the Santa Fe, operating from Chicago to the Pacific coast.

First Since 1946

The walkout started at 6 a. m. in local standard time zones, the east feeling it first. An hour later firemen in the central time belt went out; an hour later those in the mountain zone. It was the nation's first major railroad strike since May, 1946.

The tactic of singling out four principal carriers inconvenienced, but did not strand, the traveling public. Trains on runs at the time of the strike's zero hour continued on to their terminals.

Travelers between major terminal cities could make their trips on competing lines. Those relying on local service of the stricken lines had to switch to buses or other transportation.

Big freight customers transferred their shipping from the struck lines to alternate systems.

Shortly before 7 a. m. (CST) government mediators called a breakfast recess in meetings that had lasted continuously for 24 hours.

Not Far Apart

"The Brotherhood and carriers are not far apart," said weary Francis O'Neill, jr., chairman of the National (Railway) mediation board. "It's down to a matter

Fire Blackens Canadian Town

CABANO, Que.—(P)—Half of this little Canadian lumber town was a fire-blackened ruin today and 1,500 residents were homeless following a fire set off yesterday by sparks from a planing mill.

Damage was estimated at $600,000. The blaze raged for more than six hours. No casualties were reported.

Fifty-seven soldiers from the Royal 22nd Regiment guarded the town from looters. Possessions of burned-out residents were piled up in streets that escaped the wind-whipped flames.

Most of Cabano's small lumber industry and business section were destroyed. More than 100 homes also were gone.

The Cabano fire was the second such disastrous blaze in Quebec within four days. At Rimouski, 50 miles north of Cabano, a $200,000 city fire destroyed a third of the town over the weekend.

Mother Blind For 14 Years Gets Her Sight Back Suddenly

UNIONTOWN, Pa.—(P)—Mrs. Mary Franz looked out of a window in her home, then went to the door and screamed. You probably would, too, if you could see for the first time in 14 years.

Mrs. Franz, 44-year-old mother of three sons, became blind following childbirth. She lost the sight of her right eye first, then the left weakened and failed completely.

In those 14 years of darkness, her sons grew up. Henry is 14 now, Joe is 24, and Christopher is a 17-year-old Army private stationed in Germany. Their father died 16 months ago.

The other day, Mrs. Franz became conscious of brilliant flashes of light. That's when she went to the window and this is what she saw:

"It looked like a lot of strings flying around outside. As I focused on them, I realized it was branches of a nearby tree. I could see!"

"Then I could make out houses and windows in close dwellings. I turned to the kitchen table. I was able to see a cup and saucer. That scared me most of all. I had been used to feeling for dishes and often upsetting them."

"As if in a dream I made my way to the door and screamed. I was so frightened. Then the neighbors came—they thought there had been an accident."

Doctors say a cataract "must have dislocated," causing Mrs. Franz to regain her sight.

Prison Warden Loses Appeal

LANSING—(P)—A civil service commission hearing board today denied the appeal of Warden Emory E. Jacques of Marquette prison from his proposed transfer to deputy warden at the southern Michigan prison.

The hearing board ruled that the transfer was not in fact a demotion and found it in accordance with the transfer rules set up by the commission.

Jacques told the hearing board yesterday he considered the transfer a demotion.

"After 13 years of service in the Michigan prison system, during which I was moved to four successively higher positions, I feel I deserve more consideration," Jacques said.

"I definitely consider the job a demotion. The dignity, authority and privileges of the two positions are not comparable. I was not even consulted before I was told the shift was to be made."

Dr. Sander Dropped By Medical Society

MILFORD, N. H.—(P)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander was dropped from membership last night by the Hillsboro County Medical Society.

Dr. Lloyd L. Wells of Manchester, secretary of the society, reported the action. About 100 of the group's 175 members attended the meeting.

It was believed the action was almost automatic in the wake of the state medical board's revocation last April 19 of the Candia physician's right to practice medicine in this state.

The 41-year-old doctor was acquitted last March 9 of murder in the death of his cancer-ridden patient, Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto, 59, of Manchester. The state charged he killed her by air injection but Dr. Sander's counsel argued that she was already dead when the air was injected.

Piggy Bank Stolen

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—(P)—State police are looking for a copper magnate's stolen piggy bank. The bank, containing 800 pennies and $5 in silver, was in $2,000 worth of loot taken by burglars who broke into the summer home of Edmond A. Guggenheim of New York City.

New York Man Pinned By Rock At Bottom Of 20-Foot Well

NEW YORK—(P)—Police said rescuers reached Dominick Atteo at the bottom of a 20-foot Brooklyn well shaft at 1:10 p. m. (EST) today and that he was alive.

Police headquarters said that it was expected Atteo would be brought to the surface within a few minutes. He had been trapped for more than 24 hours.

As wooden shoring were lifted from his side, Atteo began thrashing about trying to climb out himself.

A son, John, 26, shouted down to him. "Don't move! Don't move! Take it easy! You'll get out!"

Atteo groaned and writhed with pain. Police shouted for more oxygen for the injured man.

Dr. Harold Berson had given

Atteo a stimulant at 9:30 a. m. When he was lowered into the shaft.

Atteo, a contractor, started to dig the well last week in an effort to tap water for washing cars at the garage. City water cannot be used for that purpose during New York City's water shortage.

A fire flared up when one of Atteo's sons lowered a cigarette to him. It virtually exploded in the rich oxygen that was being pumped into the shaft to stimulate the victim.

Atteo suffered severe burns of the hands, arm and head.

The boulder, held down by tons of sandy earth, pinned Atteo's left leg and foot in a twisted position, making it impossible to lift him.

Three Teachers Get Contracts

Nine Resignations Are Accepted

Contracts for three teachers to fill vacancies were approved last night by the Escanaba board of education in regular meeting. The contracts are for the 1950-51 school year.

Mary Ann Houle, a graduate of Stout Institute, now teaching at DePere, Wis., will teach home economics in Junior high school.

Helen J. Holmberg of Ironwood, graduate of Carroll College, will be senior high school librarian.

Edith Marinelle, graduate of Michigan State Normal, now teaching at Alpha, will teach here in the elementary department.

The board also accepted the resignations of nine teachers and granted a one-year leave of absence to a tenth. The resignations accepted were those of Marjorie Liner, Sigrid Nelson, Carol Smith, Ruth Backels, Margaret Nyren, Joan Frei, Mildred Goodenough, Virginia Brandt and Beatrice Geason. Leave of absence was granted Alice Milbrand, who will teach for a year in Japan.

Virginia Brandt and Beatrice Geason also plan to teach in Japan during the coming year.

Other business before the board included the hiring of Mrs. Charlotte Leclerc for half-time work as clerk in the elementary schools.

The board received with appreciation an offer of the Escanaba Woman's club to again sponsor a $125 scholarship this year.

Youth Club Organized In North Escanaba

Announcement has been made of the launching of the North Escanaba Youth club with headquarters in a spacious building at 1327 Sheridan road.

The club is being organized under the supervision of George Grenholm, city recreational director, with the assistance of the Kiwanis club committee on boys and girls work and a group of volunteer workers from business and industry.

Equipment Needed

Committees have been appointed to plan and supervise activities, and an appeal is now being made for supplies and equipment for the building. Anyone having any article to donate is asked to call Jack Eden, telephone 477, and arrangements will be made to collect them.

Supplies and equipment particularly needed include: tables, chairs, storage cabinet, radio, phonograph, records, large fan, large electric clock, lamps, filing cabinet, pool table, cues, chalk, cue racks, ping-pong tables, ping-pong balls, ping-pong paddles, games, books, shuffleboard set, and basketballs.

Open to All

It has been felt that North Escanaba has been lacking in facilities where boys and girls could congregate and enjoy themselves. It is the hope of the sponsors that these youngsters can organize and run their own activities under adult supervision, so that they will feel it is their own and will take pride in the clubhouse and organization.

There are no restrictions on membership and it is open to all boys and girls. Both indoor and outdoor activities will be provided for different age groups. Anybody with time to spare for supervisory work either afternoons or evenings will be heartily welcomed by the committee.

Meet Today On Stadium Plans

Confer With Steel-Crete Official

A committee of the Escanaba board of education and school officials this morning met with John Hufschmidt, president of the Steel-Crete Construction company of Milwaukee, to discuss plans for the proposed stadium to be constructed at Escanaba athletic field.

The board has informally approved the $56,400 bid of Steel-Crete for the construction of the stadium to seat 4,000 persons.

220 Feet Long

Supt. John A. Lemmer, E. E. Edick, Escanaba Senior high school principal, George Ruwisch, assistant principal, and the board of education committee, met with Hufschmidt to consider details of the construction plan.

The stadium is to be 220 feet long, 30 rows high, and is to be built of steel and concrete. The concrete will be cast on the site, and the board has been assured that most of the labor and materials will come from this area.

The seats will be of wood, especially treated to resist weather.

Covered By Insurance

Construction of the new stadium will be financed from insurance collected following destruction of the old wood grandstand by fire last fall, and some funds from the Catherine Bonifas building fund.

It is expected that the work will be started as soon as final agreement is reached on the plans and the contract formally approved. Completion of the stadium is scheduled for early fall before the football season opens.

Don Bucan has returned to Fort Wayne, Ind., after visiting his brother, Roe Taylor of Thunder Lake and Charles Blosser of Cooks on a smelt fishing trip.

Franklin Bouchard has gone to Pontiac where he will be employed.

Miss Margaret Shilson and Mrs. Ada Watson of Manistique were guests of their sister, Mrs. Herbert Gray, Friday.

Mrs. Frank Wilfred has been quite ill for the past week. Mrs. John Haindl took care of her.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Middaugh of Seney are now staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Middaugh because of the illness of the latter, who is unable to carry on her work on the hot lunch project as assistant to Mrs. L. Wilson. Mrs. Don is substituting until she is better.

Woods Activity Pick-up Is Seen

Jobbers Will Start Near Hermansville

HERMANVILLE, Mich.—(AP)—A pick-up in woods operations is indicated in the Hermansville area as soon as weather conditions permit.

Elmer Johnson and Sons employed about thirty persons near Waucaedah in getting out about 36,000 posts, in addition to poles and pulpwood. Their mill at Cunard is now employing about twenty men, who are cutting about 20,000 cedar timbers, 17,000 cedar trees and other forest products.

The Johnson sawmill has been modernized with the installation of a 150 h. p. diesel engine. As soon as weather permits, the Johnsons will use 20 pieceworkers in cutting Norway pine in the area.

Conrad Swanson will employ about thirty pieceworkers in cutting pulp for lumber and pulp in a section of land at Vega, north of Hermansville. The lumber will be shipped to Wausau and Rhinelander, Wis.

Simon Swanson expects to employ about fifteen men in cutting pulp, north of Hermansville. Ronald LaCrosse and Carl Swanson also will hire about twenty-five pieceworkers on seven forty of pulp north of Nathan in Menominee county. The aspen will go for pulp and lumber.

During March and April, 200,000 posts were shipped out of Hermansville.

Flint Mother Killed On Railroad Track Ruled Suicide Victim

FLINT, Mich.—(AP)—Mrs. Maxine Huffman, 23-year-old mother whose nude, dismembered body was found on a railroad track early Saturday, was ruled a suicide victim.

She had been despondent since her husband, Walter, filed suit for divorce several weeks ago. When the case came up in Genesee county circuit court Friday, Mrs. Huffman disappeared.

Crewmen on a Grand Trunk & Western freight train found parts of her body scattered along the track the next morning. It was so badly mangled that the young woman could not be identified for nine hours.

Str. Wilfred Sykes Will Visit Escanaba May 22

The Inland Steel company's queen of the Great Lakes fleet, Str. Wilfred Sykes, will make a public appearance at Escanaba on Monday, May 22, instead of Thursday, June 1, as previously announced.

The Str. Sykes will dock at the Reiss Coal company dock in Escanaba, arriving here early in the morning of May 22. A private showing of the vessel will be conducted until noon for specially invited officials and a public showing is planned in the afternoon and until nine o'clock in the evening.

It is anticipated that several thousand persons will visit the Str. Sykes during its stay in Escanaba. Souvenir booklets will be distributed and visitors will be conducted on a tour of the entire ship.

The Sykes is the largest ship on the Great Lakes, 678 feet in length. The ship was constructed at a cost of $5,000,000 and is capable of carrying more than 20,000 tons of iron ore, or about double the capacity of most of the ships in the Great Lakes ore fleet.

The loading or unloading of coal at the Reiss dock will be suspended throughout the day for the convenience of visitors who will inspect the Inland freighter.

Cox Of Iron River Made Life Member Of American Legion

IRON RIVER, Mich.—Guy M. Cox, Alfred Branchini Post's No. 1 legionnaire, has been voted a life membership in the American Legion. The post will present Cox with a gold membership card.

Cox is a past commander of the post which he helped organize and he has served as Upper Peninsula adjutant and in many other offices. He is the only Iron River man ever to be department commander and he is the first Upper Peninsula man to be national committee man.

The gold membership card will be formally presented to Cox at the state convention.

UM Scholarship Awards Listed

Four Escanabans Are Recipients

Four Escanaba seniors are among 596 graduating students in Michigan high schools who have been awarded regents-alumni scholarships to the University of Michigan, Erich A. Walter, dean of students and chairman of the committee on scholarships, announced today.

James P. Chapekis of 808 Ludington street, Richard H. Danielson of 202 South Third street, George Rouman of 512 South 10th street, and Barbara M. Carroll of 713 South Fifth street are the Escanaba students who received the awards.

Chapekis and Danielson, EHS students, and Barbara Carroll, St. Joseph high school student, plan to enter to college of literature, science and the arts, and Rouman, an EHS student, plans to enroll in the engineering school.

The scholarships carry a stipend equivalent to semester fees for the freshman year and are renewable for three additional years if students' performance warrants a continuation of the scholarship.

Judge Miller Chairman

The award winners were selected from 1,023 applicants representing over 300 Michigan high schools. Last year 574 regents-alumni scholarships were awarded. At least one scholarship is available for every accredited high school in the state, provided a qualified candidate applies.

The scholarship committee has announced the names of 576 scholarship winners, and has stated that 20 Michigan students will receive scholarships for nursing studies, as soon as these qualify for admission.

William J. Miller, judge of probate, was chairman of the scholarship committee of the Escanaba U. of M. alumni club. Awards are made on the basis of several factors, chief of which is the high school record of the student.

Other U. P. students who have received scholarships are as follows:

Manistique—Robert H. Carlson, 110 Mackinac, for study in education; Lois DeCelle, 115 South Cedar, for nursing studies, and Edith Kristofferson, 845 Garden avenue, for study in the college of literature, science and the arts.

Stephenson—William A. Warranus, Carney, study in engineering school.

Baraga—Carol Joy Giddings, Bessemer—Ruth Kallner, David J. Neault, David J. Rajala.

Champion—Keith J. Kulie, Crystal Falls—Ann C. Broman, Hancock—Norman A. Rautiola, Houghton—Theodore H. Barrett jr.

The smelt were packed in 899 boxes and filled one railroad car that had been iced and specially cooled to receive the fish.

Institute Opens Here Thursday

30 U. P. Recreation Leaders To Attend

Upper Michigan directors of summer recreation programs will meet here Thursday, Friday and Saturday for an institute on recreation, with Prof. William G. Robinson of the University of Michigan in charge of discussions.

About 30 Upper Peninsula recreation leaders have registered for the conference which will be held in the Escanaba Junior high school. L'Anse, Rock, Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Stephenson and Sault Ste. Marie are slated to send delegates.

The conference is sponsored by the extension service of the University of Michigan, the U. P. unit of the Michigan Recreation association and the Escanaba Recreation board.

Recreation Problems

Rev. James A. Bell, a member of the Escanaba Recreation board, will preside at the opening session Thursday afternoon, which follows registration at 2 p. m., in the Junior High school. George Ruwitch, assistant principal of the senior high school, will be the principal speaker at this session.

William G. Robinson, who is assistant on community organization for the U. of M., will serve as chairman of discussions on recreation in communities with populations less than 10,000. George Grenholm, Escanaba recreation director, and Miss Catherine Cheadle, director of playgrounds at Gladstone, will serve as panel consultants.

Problems in recreation, including finance, personnel and public relations, will be considered at sessions Thursday afternoon and evening and Friday morning.

Friday noon there will be a dinner meeting in the Sherman Hotel, at which time a movie, "Leaders for Leisure" will be shown.

Ends Saturday

The Upper Michigan unit of the state recreation association will meet Friday noon with the institute participants.

A demonstration of playground activities for children will be staged in the high school gymnasium Friday afternoon by staff members of the Escanaba Recreation department. Discussions and craft exhibits will follow.

The institute will conclude Saturday morning following a discussion of playground activities.

Similar institutes have been held in Ann Arbor and Grand Rapids under sponsorship of the U. of M. extension service. The meeting here is the first in the Upper Peninsula, and is planned for members of physical education staffs, other school personnel and community workers who desire information or experience in summer recreation work.

Road Employees Seek Pensions

Cost Study Made By Commission

Edwin Johnson, president of the Employees club of the Delta county road commission, appealed to the road commission Tuesday night to institute a retirement plan for road commission employees.

Johnson pointed out that the City of Gladstone and the City of Escanaba, as well as most private employers, have such pension plans for their employees but that the road commission employees lack this security. He also added that the road commission employees are not eligible for participation in the social security retirement plan.

Tells Cost of Plan

A. G. Gabriel, actuary of the Municipal Employees Retirement system, presented a report to the commission that the cost of a retirement plan for Delta county road commission employees has increased 9.78% of the total payroll in 1948 to 10.25% of the total payroll today. The cost of the program the first year should be $17,140, Gabriel's report showed. The increases cost is the result of the increased ages of road commission employees since 1948.

Approximately $4500 of the retirement costs would be borne by the Michigan State Highway department, under the road commission's contract with the highway department. Engineer Wm. Karas reported, and another $5,000 may be saved in payroll costs if employees eligible for retirement benefits would elect to take pensions. This would make the net cost to the commission $7500 per year. Increased savings also would be effected in the next 10 years because 22 of the 66 road commission employees will attain the age of 65 within that period, Karas reported.

Seek Employees' Intention

It was decided by the commission to ask road commission employees who are now 65 or who will soon attain the age of 65 their intentions, in the event the retirement system were adopted. The commission indicate a desire to install the pension plan for its employees if it is financially possible to do so.

A resolution from the Delta County Ministerial association opposing the sale of beer and liquor in county parks was presented to the road commission. A new state law prohibits the sale of alcoholic beverages in state-owned property but does not apply to county or city-owned property. The road commission indicated that it will discourage the open sale of alcoholic beverages in county parks.

Baseball Due For Rejuvenation On Solid Foundation In Escanaba

BASEBALL is due for a mighty rejuvenation in Escanaba this year. As most Escanabans know, the only baseball club in the city last year was Al Ness' American Legion Cubs, a classy team of junior leaguers but a club that was restricted to players under the age of 17.

This year the Escanaba Bears are being reorganized on a basis that assures strong backing and also guarantees that the club will carry through for the entire league season. For two successive years prior to 1949, the Bears folded up late in the season as player interest shifted to the softball tournaments. On each of those occasions, the Bears were in the thick of the pennant fight in the Rainbow league. Their defaults not only ruined their chances of snagging the league championship, but they also gave baseball a severe setback here.

The new organization has a much broader base in local support. Headed by such men as Matt Smith of the First National Bank, Juel Lee of the Birds Eye Veneer company, Gust Asp, local businessman, and Rev. Fr. Cappel, the organization is sound.

The baseball players themselves have committed themselves to play baseball only, no softball, a factor that guarantees that the baseball club will not fold up when the softball tournament time arrives. Also it provides more assurance of a better ball club because anyone familiar with baseball and softball will concede that the two games are not identical in their player requirements.

The baseball club has been able to attract most of the outstanding ball players of the community because it has been guaranteed to them that the ball club will play at least two games weekly. In addition to the regular game on Sundays, the club will play non-league games in the evenings during the week.

The ultimate goal is to provide a lighted baseball field. It probably will not be reached this year, but when it is reached it will give baseball in Escanaba a tremendous lift in public popularity. Also it will make possible considerably greater usage of the only existing baseball diamond in the city.

The Escanaba Cubs, too, will benefit from the new program because the Bears' organization provides another club for the younger players to advance to when they are no longer eligible for the American Legion league.

If anyone really doubts that baseball is a popular sport in Escanaba, the general interest in the radio broadcasts of the Detroit Tiger games here should dispel that doubt.

Non-Communist Oaths Upheld In Court

THE United States supreme court ruled Monday that the non-Communist oath requirement of the Taft-Hartley labor act is constitutional, rejecting the contention of two CIO unions that the oath requirement violated the free speech guarantees of the United States constitution.

Three of the nine justices did not act on the case—Justices Douglas, Clark and Minton—and of the six remaining justices, Justices Reed and Burton concurred with Chief Justice Vinson who wrote the majority opinion. Justice Jackson concurred in part and dissented in part and Justice Frankfurter likewise concurred in part. Justice Black wrote a dissenting opinion.

The supreme court decision substantiates the validity of the oath requirement on the contention that the U. S. constitution permits such requirement to preserve the constitution itself.

The non-Communist oath procedure has been beneficial in routing Communist leaders from positions of trust in labor unions. It has been attacked, however, by many labor partisans as discriminatory because it makes demands upon labor officers that are not made upon representatives of management.

There has been considerable sentiment in congress to amend the Taft-Hartley act to require anti-Communist oaths from management leaders as well as labor leaders. The amendment is one that deserves consideration. It would seem that neither labor nor representatives of management who are American patriots would hesitate to sign an affidavit of their loyalty.

Other Editorial Comments

TO IMPROVE THE SCENERY (Christian Science Monitor)

The conviction of James Maragon for perjury, like that of Alger Hiss, clears up very little concerning the activities that brought him into trouble. It only settles (and that contingent upon the result of appeal) that he lied to the senate about certain things he was doing.

Mr. Maragon, it will be remembered, was a "five percent" who used his friendship with presidential aide Harry H. Vaughan (and thus claimed an "inside track" to the White House) as a means of persuading businessmen after government contracts or favors that he had influence worth hiring. A senate investigation subcommittee had branded him "an outright fixer who is brazen enough to conduct himself in a way that leaves no doubt about it." There seems no doubt, either, that Mr. Maragon made himself a complete nuisance to the State Department after he wangled himself a job on the mission to Greece.

However, Mr. Maragon apparently managed to stay within the law, which recognizes the need for a bona fide business middleman in Washington. And General Vaughan's activities in connection with those of Mr. Maragon have never been shown to go beyond meddlesome and self-important exploitation of his position.

Merry-Go-Round

(The brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, today goes to Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, now on an important mission to Moscow.)

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Shortly before Trygve Lie left New York on his current mission to Moscow, President Truman had announced that the world looked better — a statement which Truman reiterated last week. And Trygve Lie, talking privately to a friendly immediately afterward, said:

"I am glad they (the press) did not ask me to comment on President Truman's statement yesterday that the world situation is better than in 1946."

For the secretary-general of the United Nations thinks the world situation is in a very dangerous state—not because of an immediate threat of war but because the U. N. is threatened for its very life. This is the reason for his trip to Moscow.

"I am going to tell them," he told a friend before he left, "what do you want to do about the United Nations; we must decide now, because in another six or eight months if the deadlock is not broken, this organization will collapse."

Lie added that he thinks the Soviets recognize that their walkout has been a blunder, just as the Berlin blockade was a blunder. But Russia is a big power and it cannot extricate itself from this situation without some face-saving. Here he made a little circle with his thumb and forefinger, and peeped through it, and said:

"Some little peephole—just some little peephole."

Since then the search for the peephole has been made by Lie, the British foreign office and the French. The final result now depends on Lie's talks in Moscow.

CORNERSTONE LAYER

Most Americans thing of Trygve Lie as a stout, cornerstone-laying character, with a heavy Scandinavian accent, who does something or other at the United Nations.

This vagueness is partly Lie's fault. He has operated for four years on the conviction that the secretary-general of the U. N. should keep out of controversy. But he has changed in the last few months. Lie is now displaying some of the fire he used to display when, at 16, he became a local president of the Norwegian Labor party—or the kind of fire he displays now on a Long Island tennis court when the score is six games to six and he wants to break the deadlock.

For, in those last months of his five-year term as secretary-general, Lie is determined to break the deadlock.

For, in these last months of his five-year term as secretary-general, Lie is determined to break the deadlock of the cold war. He is throwing his old caution to the winds. He doesn't care any more whether he has the support of the state department.

Actually, he has lost it. Inside fact is that the state department tried to side-track his mission to Moscow.

As a European, and especially as an ex-premier of a country with a long border adjoining Russia, Lie is fearfully worried. He thinks the policy of both sides—name-calling and arms-building—will lead to an eye-for-an-eye and a bomb-for-a-bomb. And his strategy is to try to knock together the heads of what European delegates call "les deux grands"—"the two bigs."

For a long time he has been working behind the scenes with the skill of the best Washington lobbyist. One day, he whisks the Cuban delegate off to lunch at the Lies' Long Island home. Next day he makes a private appointment to meet a British or French delegate at the Manhattan headquarters of U. N.—where talks are more unobserved than at near Lake Success.

And the next day, a Polish or Ukrainian delegate for dinner—possibly mixing them with some of the New York City officials in talk about the headquarters.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

OPEN AND CLOSED SYLLABLES

This article is going to be a little technical. But don't let the word technical scare you away. I simply want to explain again why the long "o" (oh) in occasion, offensive, official (as "oh-casion, etc.), and the long "e" (ee) in effective, efficient, essential (as "ee-fective, etc.), are in violation of an important principle of British and American English.

The principle has to do with open and closed syllable. Few people, even teachers and students of speech know about "open and closed syllables," so let us see what the term means.

An open syllable is one which ends with or consists of a vowel. In the name O-klahoma, for example, all four syllables are open—i. e., they end with a vowel.

A closed syllable is one which ends with a consonant or a consonant sound. In the word of-ten-sive, all syllables are closed (the final "e," of course, is silent).

Now vowels in closed syllables rarely ever take the long sound, especially if such closed syllables are unaccented. When the vowel "o" occurs in an unstressed, closed syllable, it usually is obscured in sound, becoming "uh," like the "o" of "con-nect" (kuh-NEKT). On the other hand, if "o" occurs in an accented, open syllable, it usually has the long (oh) sound, as in "o-pen-ing" (OH-pen-ing).

Likewise, the vowel "e" in unstressed, closed syllables is usually short (eh) as in en-rap-ture (en-RAP-cher). In open syllables, "e" usually is long whether stressed or not, as in "e-con-o-my" (ee-KON-oh-mee), "e-pit-o-me" (ee-PIT-oh-mee), and "e-co-nom-ics" (EE-koe-NOM'iks).

MOST FAMOUS OF ALL impresarios, Phineas T. Barnum, and several of his most spectacular exhibits, shown by posters he had drawn to his colorfully imaginative demands. Top left, a photo of himself which Barnum favored and used frequently. Top center, an illustration of Barnum's famous "mermaid" as she was being "captured" in the South Seas. Lower left, the alleged discovery of "Jo-Jo the Dogfaced Russian boy," another of the great showman's successful presentations. Right, a poster which once graced the nation's billboards, proving that Jumbo was in all truth one of the largest elephants ever held in captivity.

Facts, Fancy And Fables Give The Circus A Glamor All Of Its Own

DOUGLAS NELSON RHODES

Barnum didn't say: "There's a sucker born every minute!"

For many years this phrase has been synonymous with the name of the great showman. Both in literature and in everyday life one frequently comes into contact with this colossal fallacy. "Barnum was right," is another expression used to denote people as fools or "suckers." This, of course, is in reference to the more famous saying. There is no authentic record in history of that well-known byword even in Barnum's autobiographies—of which there are many.

What Barnum actually did say was: "The American people like to be humbugged," and proved the truth of this statement many times, though his attractions were not always fakes. In fact, few were not genuine. No one could brand Jenny Lind, the Swedish nightingale, as a hoax, or General Tom Thumb as anything but a tiny bit of humanity.

His more famous humbings included "Zip, the-What-Is-It," "The Mermaid," "The Woolly Horse," and "George Washington's Nurse."

"Zip" turned out to be an old southern Negro with a peculiar shaped head. The "Mermaid" was the body of a fish ingeniously attached to the head and shoulders of a dead monkey. The "Woolly Horse" was genuine enough as a freak, but Barnum's publicity was so promiscuously exaggerated in regard to the attraction, that it must be counted among his frauds. Joyce Heath, "George Washington's Boyhood Nurse," purported to be 161 years of age, was discovered to be about 80 years old, a fact which came to light upon a physician's examination of the Negro after her death.

Fluked by Sharpers

As true in most matters, Barnum himself often was the victim of sharpers. He once invested and lost his entire savings in a fraudulent scheme to manufacture artificial snow. Just who was expected to buy the snow, history does not explain. Another time he was bilked out of a large sum in a crooked real estate promotion, and again in a fake stock deal involving a Swiss watch factory.

Although Phineas T. Barnum's name is regarded as synonymous with the circus, he did not attain his fame as a circus owner. It wasn't until he was over 70 years of age that he became a factor in the business. Famous as an impresario and museum owner, Barnum was at first much opposed to entering the circus field on a large scale. Earlier in his career he leased the use of his name to a small circus, but the enterprise failed because of poor management. He was finally persuaded to become the associate of W. C. Coup, a shrewd circus man of the day, and put out a circus under Barnum's name and Coup's management. Later this show was merged with that of their bitter enemy, owned by James A. Bailey, whose real name was MacGuinness. The combined circuses became the world famed "Barnum and Bailey Circus, The Greatest Show on Earth." This enterprise continued to tour the United States and Europe until the death of Bailey in 1906, when it was purchased by the equally famous Ringling Brothers, who operated it under that name until 1919 when they combined it with their own circus, retaining the magic Barnum and Bailey title.

Practically all of the work of managing the original Barnum and Bailey fell on the shoulders of Coup and Bailey; Barnum caring little and knowing nothing about the business. His activity consisted mainly of making personal appearances at each performance, a task he thoroughly enjoyed.

Barnum's supposed statement, "There's a sucker born every minute," was invented by Adam Forepaugh, a bitter competitor in the circus field, and attributed to Barnum in an effort to discredit the great showman in the eyes of the world.

Crown Is Hard Worker

Another general belief is that clowns are a sad lot when not cavorting in the ring. The funsters are often depicted by authors as being morose and melancholy. Many songs, plays and books purport to show clowns as men of great unhappiness. This is not true.

The clown, generally speaking, is like any other actor or business man. He sells a commodity—laughter. He works hard in the ring and is considered the backbone of the performance.

Many spectators while viewing a circus performance with its gay, laughing men and women, wonder how circus people can be so carefree when they live "such hard lives."

In reality, circus people do not have hard lives—and there are many compensations.

A great many of their waking hours are spent out of doors, and they get plenty of exercise beside their routine. Nearly all are well fed, for circus food is of the best and is scientifically prepared by chefs of experience and skill. There is no pampering of stars at mealtime. Everyone, from manager to "Pony Punk" receive the same fare and all they can eat. Snowy tablecloths and china dishes are used by all the important circuses in order to make living conditions as clean and attractive as possible for the employees. Yet, there is definite class distinction. The dining tent or "cookhouse" of every circus is divided by a canvas sidewall into two parts. The sections are respectively termed the "Long End," where the workmen eat, and the "Short End," where the performers and staff dine. In the "Short End" there is a table for the "bosses," one for the freaks, and others for the big show performers, seated according to their importance. Here, every man must wear a coat and tie, no matter how warm the weather. The rule does not apply to the workmen's section since there are no ladies present and the men must come to meals directly from work.

Life of A Circus Family
The circus family's home is a well-equipped train. Though modest in space it is made to bloom cheerily by a genuine domestic pride. A car for unmarried women, in charge of a matron, one for bachelors and others for married folk, illustrate the high moral character of the modern white tops. The laborers, like the performers and staff, have porter service and clean berths on the show train.

Children of the performers frequently travel with their parents. They attend the circus school and study with greater zest because of splendid physical health and separation from dull school routine. Teachers are furnished by the management.

However, one must not get the impression that life on a big circus is without inconvenience. Everyone must be punctual at performance time, no excuses are accepted. Fines are imposed on the tardy, and if it becomes a habit, dismissal follows. Acts and routines must be constantly practiced to prevent muscles from stiffening, and to acquire more grace. And certain occupational hazards are obvious enough—and sometimes spell serious injury or death.

Letters From The People

Carpenters Wages

May 9, 1950

Dear Editor:

The recent letter in the Press from the union official defending the local carpenters' pay raise did not state all the facts about this matter. It is not generally known, but a month or more before the last union meeting the Escanaba carpenters, by majority vote, voted against a raise in their pay scale. Despite this expressed wish of the members, the union officials forced the pay raise through, without any vote being taken. Undoubtedly the local carpenters had previously voted against the pay raise because they were aware of the lack of construction business in this area. They had just gone through the slimmest construction winter in years, and they knew from the small number of members working and the slim paychecks that business was not good. The shortage of work locally, plus the impact of a pay raise on the other wage scales and the effect on the local school building program evidently meant nothing to the union officials. Their sole purpose was to bring Escanaba into line with other U. P. communities and thus present a united front in their position as bargaining agents for the U. P. carpenters. They well knew that this position would be weakened if they couldn't bring Escanaba into line. In other words, this wage increase was forced through against the wishes of the members and for the increase in power of the union officials. It takes little imagination to picture what effect the pay raise will have on local building when one considers that at the time the pay raise was put through less than one-fourth of the total local membership was working. Already some of the members have left town to seek work in other areas. Do you suppose the union officials wonder why there is no work for them in their own home town?

The argument was used that Escanaba shouldn't have a lower pay scale than nearby cities such as Marquette (where the scale is $2.00 per hour and not $2.40 as was claimed). Economic conditions will always settle wages and prices in each community—who do they suppose sets the price of eggs, and aspirin tablets, and coffee and doughnuts? Certainly if your product is not selling—and that includes carpenters' services—it's a poor time to raise its price. And why the sudden desire to have Escanaba at the same rate as other U. P. towns? Why wasn't that argument advanced in years past. The pay raise is also justified by the union officials by claiming that carpenters have an investment in tools and are "responsible for the work." That word "responsible" was used rather loosely. It is true that there are in Escanaba some highly skilled and competent carpenters, but even they are not responsible for their work. Neither are the wood-butchers working along side the skilled men and getting the same rate. The union sets the scale, and it makes no difference how inefficient a man is as long as he is a member of the union he gets the same rate as the expert carpenters. If a poor carpenter cuts a door opening in a wall and hangs the door wrong, and has to return later and do the job over again, his pay goes on at the same rate as the man who does the job right in the first place. If a carpenter was responsible for his work, as claimed, they wouldn't charge for correcting mistakes—but who ever heard of one offering to do his work over again for nothing?

This situation can't be blamed on the local members of the carpenters' union. Acting in their own best interests, and with an eye on business conditions locally, they voted to keep wages at the same level. The same can't be said for their leaders.

There can be no doubt that this new pay raise will increase the movement that is pricing carpenters out of the local market. The amount of non-union building going on in Escanaba today is evidence of that movement, and it will increase as union carpenter wages go up. Can you blame the builder if he turns to non-union labor because he can't afford the price union labor demands?

Yours very truly,

Joe Public

PLACE IN THE COUNTRY—The number of city folks who long for a "place in the country" is as countless as the grains of sand on the shore of Green Bay.

Some of these longing-filled folks never make the jump to the suburbs but spend an unhappy lifetime comfortably housed in the cities. Surrounded by all of the conveniences, they dream of a cottage on a hill, with a pump in the kitchen, and a path leading from the back door to a little building that in winter is colder than the inside of a deep freeze.

A place in the country? Many people would be disappointed if their dream ever came true.

THE ADVANTAGES—It takes an individual to enjoy a place in the country. He must be prepared to trade minor hardships for less tangle compensations—like a sky free of smoke and soot and a ten-acre backyard blooming with wild-flowers. Other advantages are comparative isolation from the small chit-chat of the town, where people are in a constant dither over the goings-on of some of their more newsworthy neighbors. Gossip is difficult to maintain in the country, even with the benefit of a party line.

DOWNRIGHT UNHAPPY—Take some people out of their urban surroundings and they would pine away for lack of something to do and someone to talk to. For there are many people who love the small talk, the visits, the constant temptation to attend meetings, that accompanies life in the city.

They would be bored to a nervous breakdown by the comparative isolation that pleases the individual who likes solitude.

Some people can find happiness in watching the changing mood and pattern of the sky, the beauty of the trees in sun and rain and snow. Unless you are one of these, better find your pleasures on a more personal level with your equals at the canasta table.

GETTING BETTER—Today there is a growing movement toward the rural life, with most of the city conveniences thrown in for good measure.

There are few sections of the country where electricity and running water and indoor plumbing cannot be enjoyed. Rural telephone service is being extended.

Now you can have your trees and sky and big yard with its garden without sacrificing the basic comforts.

THEY LIKE IT—Reasons for moving to the country must be sound or disappointment will follow. The family personality, the character and attitudes of its individuals, must be considered before the step is taken.

It is not reason enough that a home site outside the city limits is less costly, that taxes are lower, and father likes to plant a big garden. Every member of the family must have an inclination to rural life and a genuine enjoyment of their own company.

POOR TRAINING—Many years of city life is poor training for a switch to the country, no matter how great the longing may be.

The pleasures of life in the country can be known only by experience. The untired and inexperienced city-dweller may after long years of rubbing elbows with people in town, find the wide open spaces lonely and unsatisfactory.

But the best test to determine whether life in the country will agree with you is to consider all of the social, economic, and physical factors.

If, after this examination, the urge still remains to make the move—make it. Life is too short to spend it in uselessly unhappy strivings.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Brussels—Belgium and her lowland neighbors, The Netherlands and tiny Luxembourg were invaded by Germany today. Germany announced she was taking these countries and was moving all her forces to forestall an "immediate" British-French offensive through the Low Countries, to the rich industrial Ruhr. Waves of German bombers and transport planes launched the newest Nazi blitzkrieg before dawn.

Gladstone—The city of Gladstone has a population of 4,893, a decrease of 277 from the 1930 census, according to an announcement of preliminary census returns given yesterday by John C. Daly, census supervisor.

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Asher R. Fox will celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary today at their home with a family reunion dinner highlighting the observance.

Escanaba—A two-way radio system and a second squad car will be added to the Escanaba police department in the coming year, according to plans made in drawing the city budget for the coming year, City Manager George Bean reports.

20 YEARS AGO

London—John Masfield, a typical English poet who has sung the glory of Britain's merchant marine and traditional sports, today was appointed poet laureate of England by King George.

Ann Arbor—Regents of the University of Michigan today approved a plan whereby the department of graduate medicine will supervise a children's clinic at St. Luke's hospital in Marquette. Plans call for a building and equipment to cost $75,000 and for an expenditure of about $50,000 a year to maintain the clinic. The money will come from the children's fund established by Senator Couzens.

Manistique—An additional product, manufactured ties, will be produced here by the Stack Lumber company when it resumes operations in July. The company has purchased several timber tracts to supply raw materials. For several weeks the plant has been idle because of business conditions.

Friend From Home

By Gordon Martin

You will always treasure memories of golden boyhood days, and the places that you knew and loved in that delightful phase. And you've got a fond remembrance of the old familiar town, for in all the years you've been away, she's never left you down. So each day you're surely glad to read of old-time things and chums, when the postman rings your doorbell and your hometown paper comes.

Why just look how all the store fronts are so modern and so neat, in that picture showing what's been done along Commercial Street. And the schoolhouse where you used to go has said its fond farewell, but a story says the new one is a building very swell. Turn the page and read the items—not so many names you know, but there's some you quickly recognize that leave a pleasant glow.

And what's this—well, there it says the town is moving north and west, and there's houses in the pasture where the rabbits used to nest! All the weddings, new arrivals—look, they paved Twelfth avenue, and the college is expanding—got to have a courthouse too. Why you couldn't do without the news of old-time things and chums, so you're waiting for the postman when your hometown paper comes.

Haters Gun For Dean Acheson

Secretary of State Planned To Resign

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—It is a strange commentary on the times that on one side of the stage in the present drama of foreign policy—war or peace—is the same cast of characters that played the same role in the years immediately preceding World War II. They might be called the hate chorus.

CHILDS

They are a weird blend of ex-this and ex-that; of chi-chi individuals who cling to the "social" label and very important Republicans. In 1938 and beyond they were in America First and they hated Roosevelt.

This time they consider the President beneath their contempt. Their hate and their malice are concentrated on Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

At a charming little dinner party given by a soloist in the hate chorus recently, Acheson's resignation was gleefully predicted even down to the number of days preceding the date on which he would be forced out of office. The prophet in this instance was one of the oddest characters in the group who has since been removed from the payroll of the Central Intelligence Agency; the last being an eventuality that may have been hastened by the fact his name was on one of Senator McCarthy's lists.

Acheson is Disgusted
How much this prophecy derived from wishful thinking, compounded with psychopathology of a complicated nature, probably only a good psychiatrist could determine. But, in actual fact, the event this crew have so worked for and longed for came closer to happening than they could have known.

Not long before he left for the series of European conferences now in progress Acheson called on the President. The prolonged and nagging quarrel in Congress with all its savagery had deeply depressed him. He had a heart-sick feeling that perhaps his usefulness was at an end.

While it has been for the most part outside the scope of the news, Acheson has in recent months been under a great personal strain in addition to everything else. One of his two daughters, Mrs. William P. Bundy, has been undergoing a series of minor operations in connection with a grave illness.

This may have been one of the reasons why, as he told the President, he felt he could not and should not continue as Secretary of State. The President's response was immediate and unequivocal. He replied that whatever Acheson's personal wishes might be, he could not resign.

Told Him To Stick
The President went on to say that he understood Acheson's feelings very well. To serve in high office in times like these was to take personal abuse of an unprecedented nature. But under the circumstances there was no choice but to go on. It was a duty not merely to people here at home but to free people everywhere.

You've got to stay here, Dean, and fight both the Communists and the Republicans, the President is reported to have said in conclusion.

The President was in a fighting mood and he conveyed to his Secretary of State something of this same fiery determination. Acheson left for Paris feeling better about the struggle to maintain some unity of policy at home and the struggle to maintain some unity of purpose among the Western allies in Europe.

There was, of course, not a little politics behind the President's pep talk. He well knows that Acheson's resignation, no matter what the real motives, would be taken by the McCarthy-Wherry-Taft wing of the Republican party as a victory and everything would be done to make it appear as a confession of guilt.

No Change in Policy
Between the President and his Secretary of State it seemed to be settled that there would be no change—certainly not before the elections of November 7. This means that there is not likely to be any change in or expansion of policy. And it is just here that one comes to the crux of the tragedy.

The policy being pursued today is not big enough or bold enough in relation to the threat of total war; a threat that seems to grow more real and more imminent with each day that passes. Both in theory and in practice the policy of containing communism through strength is inadequate. The policy of strength should be related to a far-reaching peace offensive carried to all peoples everywhere.

Perhaps no course whatsoever can avert destruction. But if there were an all-out effort to avert it, then at least their would be the satisfaction on the day it happens that everything humanly possible had been done on our side to prevent it.

Yearly Session Of Legislature Wins Approval

LANSING—(AP)—Unanimously approved in the House, a constitutional amendment proposing annual regular sessions of the legislature was before the Senate today.

If the proposal gets a two-thirds Senate majority, it will appear on the November ballot for a popular vote.

House approval was given yesterday without debate. Earlier floor discussion had found both Republicans and Democrats favoring the proposal.

They agreed that the present system of one regular session open to any subject every two years had been outgrown by the state's needs.

The necessity for the governor's choosing the subjects for the "off year" special sessions was too great a burden on him, they said.

A vote was scheduled today in the House on a bill to permit Jews to vote in this year's primary election by absentee ballot. Rosh Hashana, a Jewish holy day, falls this year on Sept. 12, the same day as the primary election.

States Righters Fight Fair Deal

By LeROY SIMMS
JACKSON, Miss.—(AP)—States Rights leaders pledged today an all-out, two-year fight to stifle President Truman's fair deal program.

They approved such a stand for submission this afternoon to the third annual national States Rights meeting.

Resolutions endorsed last night by the executive committee take what it terms the "Truman welfare state" and advocate a south-wide rebellion against it.

Delegates for today's meeting are expected from 14 states including several thousand Mississippians.

Many of the home states already are keyed up by Senator Harry F. Byrd's blistering attack at Cleveland, Miss., against "heading down the road to socialism."

The executive committee also adopted an ambitious plan for precinct-by-precinct organization in a fight for full control of all deep-south states.

They believe this would give them the balance of power in the 1950 Democratic convention.

Benton Harbor Man Kills Wife While Police Chiefs Watch

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—While two police chiefs and a municipal judge looked on, 40-year-old Francis Williams killed his wife and fatally wounded himself yesterday.

Williams, a Negro, died a short time after the shooting. He told St. Joseph Police Chief Tom Gillespie that his wife, Dovie, 35, had been "running around with other men."

Gillespie was dining with Alvin C. Boyd, Benton Harbor police chief, and Municipal Judge Webster Sterling in a downtown hotel coffee shop when Mrs. Williams dashed into the shop from the kitchen.

As she ran, a shotgun blast hit her, and she fell dying. Boyd went to the woman's aid and Gillespie chased the fleeing husband. Before he could be captured, Williams shot himself in the left side.

Mrs. Williams, employed at the hotel as a dishwasher, had filed a divorce suit Monday.

Perch Dipping Is Illegal In State

Dipnet fishermen in this area were warned today by conservation officers that dipping perch is illegal in Michigan.

The warning came on the heels of a heavy perch spawning run at the mouth of the Ogontz river, where an officer has been stationed to prevent the perch being illegally taken. The officers received reports that the perch were being dipped with smelt nets.

Perch may be taken only with hook and line. The only fish that may now be dipped are smelt and suckers.

The perch fishing with hook and line at Van's Harbor near Garden has been fair but has dropped off, according to a report from Conservation Officer Hugh Fisher. The fishing will improve later in the spring.

Martin Sather Dies In St. Paul

'Living Together' Is Topic For Home Extension Lesson

Leaders and members of Home Extension clubs in Delta county will attend a training meeting Friday in Central Methodist church, Escanaba, where the lesson subject "Living Together in the family" will be discussed.

The meeting will open at 10 a. m. and continue to 3 p. m., with time out for lunch. It is announced by Miss Ingrid Tervonen, county home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Lennah K. Backus, East Lansing, parent education and child development specialist of Michigan State College, will lead the discussion.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

Roth Checks On High Cost Of Investments In Retirement Fund

LANSING—(AP)—Attorney General Stephen J. Roth ordered the state employees' retirement fund today to explain how it has spent $498,271 since 1943 on premiums and fees to obtain investments for the $24,000,000 fund.

As a trustee of the fund, Roth sent a letter to fund secretary Donald O'Hara asking a "detailed breakdown" of who received the premiums and brokerage fees.

Roth said he knew that additional premiums were owned by the fund for investments which have not been completed.

The attorney general declined to explain his own other than to say: "It's a lot of money. I want to know where it was spent."

Roth and other Democrats have been jabbing at state treasurer D. Hale Brake, custodian of the fund, for his investment policies.

Tax Loophole Plugs Cause Squawks But Bring In Revenue

LANSING—(AP)—Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale) told the Senate yesterday that plugging loopholes in the state sales tax law may cause discomfort but that it pays off.

Higgins defended his amended return plan adopted by the 1949 legislature, and now under attack in the courts. Some businessmen have criticized it. The change requires merchants to file amended returns on their year's business in conformity with their federal income tax returns.

The Ferndale senator, chief "loophole plugger" of the legislature, said the first 6,237 amended returns filed this year brought in an additional $160,000 in sales tax revenues which otherwise might not have been collected.

School Survey Is Authorized

U. of M. To Study School System

Dr. L. E. Vrodevoe, head of the bureau of school services of the University of Michigan, assisted by a staff and with the cooperation of Escanaba public school teachers and faculty members, will make a survey of the city schools this year.

The board of education in meeting last night authorized Supt. John A. Lemmer to request the survey, considered valuable in connection with the curriculum and the proposed school building program. Dr. Vrodevoe and his staff will make several trips to Escanaba over a period of about a year in making the survey.

Other business before the board last night included reports on the current tax levy, the Catherine Bonitas construction fund, and the debt service account.

Supt. Lemmer also presented to the board a playground development planned by the city recreation department in the Webster school area. Tennis courts have already been completed there and a baseball diamond, wading pool, and landscaping are planned.

Two City Teachers Apply For Positions In Japan

VIRGINIA BRANDL

BEATRICE GEASON

Two Escanaba teachers, Miss Beatrice Geason and Miss Virginia Brandl, have been accepted by the department of army to teach in dependent schools in Japan in the coming year.

Recent notification of their acceptance brings the total of Escanaba teachers who have applied for work with the civilian affairs branch of the army to three. Miss Alice Milbrand, Barr school instructor, has also been accepted to teach in Japan.

Final appointment of all three teachers is contingent upon their passing physical examinations at army posts nearest their summer residence. By July 15, they are to be ready for assignment to specific schools in Japan.

Miss Brandl, whose home is in Manitowish, is a graduate of Stevens Point Normal in Wisconsin. She has taught fourth grade classes at Washington school the past four years and previously taught in Manitowish.

Miss Geason, a graduate of the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch, has taught at the Webster school here two years. Prior to coming to Escanaba she taught in Belding, Mich., and in schools in St. Louis county, Minnesota.

If they pass physical examinations, all three Escanaba teachers will be assigned to teach American children residing in Japan.

Northern Hemlock And Hardwood Assn. Will Meet May 16

The Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers Association, comprising principal manufacturers of lumber, hardwood flooring, veneer and plywood of Wisconsin and Michigan is holding its Spring meeting at King's Gateway Hotel, Land of Lakes, Wisconsin on May 16. Among the guest speakers is Charles G. Wright of the Federal Reserve Bank in Chicago, who will speak on the subject, "More Inflation Ahead."

Charles A. Leonard, chief, St. Louis Procurement Office of the United States Army Engineers, will present details on industrial mobilization for lumber.

F. G. Fitz-Patrick, vice president, C&NW Railway Company will talk on transportation matters involving industry members.

R. G. Colgan, vice president, National Lumber Manufacturers association, Washington, D. C. is scheduled to report on matters of interest now before the Congress.

The opinion of industry from this region is evolved from the discussion forum of these quarterly Association meetings which draw between 100 and 150 industry members.

Diamond Pole and Piling company and Birds Eye Veneer company, Escanaba; Sheppard Dimension and Lumber company, Wells; Atlas Plywood company, Gladstone; Bay de Noquet company, Nahma and C. S. Locke of Munising are members of the association.

Service STOPPED

DETROIT—(AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad abandoned service to Michigan today and three other railways sharply curtailed service because of strike action.

The New York Central's Michigan division, the Pere Marquette division of the Chesapeake & Ohio, and the Baltimore & Ohio were roads chopping service in the state.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen called a strike at 6 a. m. against the Pennsylvania (west of Harrisburg), the New York Central (west of Buffalo), the Southern, and the Santa Fe railroads to enforce demands that an additional fireman be employed on multi-unit Diesel engines.

Neither the Southern nor Santa Fe touch Michigan.

Baltimore & Ohio trains normally are drawn by New York Central locomotives over NYC tracks between Detroit and Toledo. Today the railroad shuttled passengers between the two cities on buses. They leave the cities approximately on schedules previously observed by B & O trains.

Thursday will concern public power.

Labor and social welfare problems will highlight a speech at Butte, Mont., Friday, world affairs and the farmers' stake in world trade will feature an address at Fargo, N. D., Saturday.

Peace objectives will be the theme of a talk Sunday at Madison, Wis.

The speechmaking trip will be climaxed with a political talk Monday night at Chicago at a big Democratic Jamboree.

Price Boosts Are Forecast

Talk Of Inflation Is Heard Again

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK—(AP)—Another series of price boosts here and there this week sharpens the debate over the prospects of inflation becoming a household word again. Here is the packet of news:

Wool futures prices in New York at a new seasonal high; mills bidding on government orders for fabric now ask so much as 45 cents a yard more than they did last October; the Sydney (Australia) market strong, with the world supply of fine wools tightening.

Metals on the rise again; zinc up another half-cent to 12 cents a pound; copper price advances rumored, as the price of brass and copper products goes up; steel scrap firm after recent price advances; tin up again.

Tire Prices Rising
Tire prices expected to go up about 5 per cent within a month; natural rubber prices, up 40 per cent since last fall, holding fairly steady at the new highs; natural latex, the liquid rubber from which foam rubber products are made, now 35 cents a pound against 21 last summer; prospects for higher prices for latex products—auto cushions, mattresses and pillows.

Dressed pork prices up sharply this week; hogs inching up recently; spot prices for wheat, corn, beef, higher Tuesday; cocoa prices, up 20 per cent in six weeks, still higher Tuesday, putting a squeeze on the candy maker.

Gasoline Holds Firm
Gasoline prices holding firm after their recent climb to new highs in many parts of the country; eastern fuel oil dealers announcing that this summer they will not give any price discounts to lure householders into filling up their tanks early.

Whiskey drinkers being told once more that the price of Scotch is likely to hold where it is because of an unsatisfied world demand for limited supplies; but some brands of bourbon have come down in price recently.

And vacuum packed coffee continues to weaken in price under the determined resistance of the housewife; further cuts of two or three cents a pound this week by some roasters who have been unable to move their stocks.

Tokyo Morals Collapse; Boys Are Kissing Girls

COLUMBUS, O.—(NEA)—A Tokyo professor, now studying at Ohio State University here, is beginning to be afraid that there's more to this freedom business than meets the eye. It can be downright immoral.

Japanese boys and girls, Senjiro Hosokawa thinks, are copying behavior patterns from the American GI's on occupation duty. And, he adds politely, there are a few of the boys who are not what he calls perfect examples of propriety. Some of them don't even ask a girl's parents first, when they want a date.

"You people," says the 35-year-old professor at Tokyo Teachers' College, "should be more discreet in your introduction of your way of life. In your eagerness to democratize our country, freedom has been misinterpreted."

The serious-faced Hosokawa fears that pretty soon Japanese marriages will be arranged by the parties involved, and the nation's moral structure may suffer other similar signs of breaking down.

"I sometimes feel very sorry for American girls who have to search out their ideal husbands for themselves without the advice of their parents," is the way he expresses it.

"My own marriage was arranged by my teacher," (The Hosokawas have two children, but Hosokawa had no statistics about his teacher's offspring.) "Parents and teachers are more objective in making a marriage."

Among other signs of a moral collapse cited by Hosokawa are co-educational schools, and boys and girls mingling in dance halls and at the movies. All in all, it's a very serious thing to a very serious young Japanese.

Perhaps the worst thing the Americans brought to Japan—excluding the atom bomb, of course—was the kiss. It seems that each GI brought his private osculatory Marshall Plan with him to Japan. Before the war, kissing was a shocking thing in Japan.

Now, there's a different kind of shock in a Nipponese kiss.

In the last analysis, every kind of peaceful co-operation among men is primarily based on mutual trust. This holds for nations as well as individuals. And the basis for trust is loyal give and take.—Dr. Albert Einstein.

SENJIRO HOSOKAWA: He feels sorry for American girls.

Rock

ROCK—Miss Shirley Korvela is spending a few days in Duluth. Mr. and Mrs. Guy LaCrosse and family of Saukville, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schmeltzer and family of Marquette and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carlson and daughter of Gladstone spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson.

Mr. and Mrs. Eino Salmi, Mr. and Mrs. George Kaukola and Mrs. Lizzie Ahola attended the Suomi Synod church conference at Gwinn Sunday.

Sunday guests at the Risto Lepisto home were Mr. and Mrs. Matt Hakkinen and daughters of Marquette, Mr. and Mrs. Peura of Marquette, the Overmark family of Herman, Mich., and Ethel Erickson of Skaneateles.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Mustonen, sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Mustonen, jr., have returned from a trip to Cloquet and Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis.

Herman Waak is confined to his home by illness.

Grand Marais

Birthday Party
GRAND MARAIS — Loretta, Drust, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Drust, celebrated her 11th birthday anniversary with a party at her home Saturday. Games were followed by a birthday lunch. Loretta received many pretty gifts. At the party were Rita Boynton, Judy Mulligan, Linda Erickson, Helen Ann LaCombe, Bonnie Knutson and Shirley Mulligan.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Rex Block, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Senecal and son, Jackie, and Bruce McLeod motored to Escanaba Saturday where the Blocks visited Mrs. Matilda Thomas and the William and Francis Thomas families.

Mrs. Sarah Senecal returned home Sunday from a short visit at the home of Mrs. Kate Shay in Germfask.

Mrs. Lawrence Tellier returned Saturday from Detroit and Saginaw where she visited her daughters, Mrs. Clifford DeRosia and Mrs. Donald Shalla, and her mother, Mrs. Hester MacDonald. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford DeRosia brought her home and spent the weekend here, returning Monday to their home in Wayne.

Mrs. Louis Dowell is home following a week's visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. John McCartney of Newberry.

Expansion Outlined On NMCE Campus

MARQUETTE—Proposed campus development at the Northern Michigan College of Education calls for construction of between four and six additional buildings. Contracts for one of the buildings, the library, already has been let. Requests for approval of three other structures have been made by Dr. H. A. Tape, president of the college.

These requests call for a men's dormitory, an industrial arts building and a field house. College administrators are hoping to have funds for construction of the buildings placed on the 1950-51 budget.

Long-range development of the campus calls for two other structures—an additional dormitory and a warehouse.

Tape also has placed before the present legislative session a request for $280,000 to rebuild the Peter White Hall of Science. Major and minor fire hazards were discovered in the building by R. W. Bystrom, fire department chief who found that the structure lacks adequate means of egress on the first and second floors.

FOR CHICAGO'S FAIR — Betsy Nan Ross isn't sure whether it's a pyramid that spun into a spiral or a spiral that settled down to be a pyramid. She's told it's a "Spiramid," created by Chicago artist Charles Bracken as the symbol of the Chicago Fair of 1950.

Munising News

Onni Maki left Tuesday for Wood, Wis., to receive treatment in the veterans hospital. He was accompanied by Carl Wrona.

Harry C. Nelson spent Tuesday in Green Bay attending sales clinics.

Trenary

Birthday Dinner
TRENARY—Mrs. Charles R. Little was guest of honor at a dinner party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nestor Orava, arranged in honor of her 57th birthday anniversary. At the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Little, Eleanor and Stella Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Quarfoot and daughter, Jyd, and Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Orava and Jackie and Sandra.

Re-Elected President
Mrs. William Quarfoot was re-elected president of the Methodist Ladies' Aid at the regular meeting at which Mrs. Josie Viton was hostess.

Barn Burns Down
Fire destroyed a barn on the Carl Holmquist property Saturday noon. Five rabbits, five chickens and a pig were destroyed in the fire. The loss is estimated at $500. The Trenary and Rock River fire departments responded to the call but because of the high wind were unable to bring the blaze under control.

Personals
Mrs. Arnold Druckenmiller, jr., and daughter, Judy, returned to their home here Saturday after a two weeks' vacation in Detroit during which they visited Mrs. Druckenmiller's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Zeph LeDue. They made the return trip as far as Escanaba by plane. Robert Quarfoot who is attending school in Chicago spent the weekend here at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eloy Josephson.

Mrs. Lena Slambo has returned to her home here after spending a week visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. James Bresnahan, Menominee.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance B. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Story spent Sunday in Rhineland, Wis., visiting with Miss Hilda Webber.

COME SEE FOR YOURSELF!

THIS TIME we'd like to tell you about something that you cannot see in this picture—something, in fact, you cannot know about from looking at someone else in a passing Buick—or from viewing a Buick on our showroom floor.

It's the feel you get from a Buick in motion.

You are going to find out that it is something like traveling on your own private, jet-propelled cloud—only firmer.

Maybe you know a stretch of washboard road, where you have to slow down, or bounce and jitter.

Try that in a Buick and see how you keep a level, comfortable boulevard smoothness.

Maybe you're always on edge to dodge dips and chuckholes. Those also lose most of their jolt when you're at the wheel of a Buick—or in the rear seat.

In a few simple words—the ride of any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—is out of this world.

We could give you a lot of reasons. Soft coil springs on all four wheels, for example—the firm linkage of the torque-tube drive—the distribution of weight—big soft tires on wide rims—the way Buick engines are mounted.

Even Dynaflo Drive*—always smooth and free of geared-drive harshness—plays its part in the marvelous Buick ride.

But why simply listen to reasons? Experience is still the best teacher.

Come see for yourself why the Buick ride is called "matchless"—and how little it costs to replace a jitterbuggy with one of these level-striding honeys.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Library Adventure

By Arnold Mulder

GENERALLY speaking, prizes are of doubtful value in promoting the writing of creative literature. Most of the great books are written under the impulse of winning a prize, or even under that of cashing in on royalties, but because the author is driven by a passionate desire to get down on paper what he feels he was born to say.

This generalization makes the showing of the Hopwood awards at the University of Michigan all the more impressive. When those prizes were established some 20 years ago, many people regarded them with considerable skepticism. The collegiate woods are full of contests of one kind or another; the vast majority of them never result in creative work. It is in any degree above the amateurish.

Similar results were expected by many people from the Hopwood awards. But those who won prizes in these competitions have done rather better than is usually the case.

The University has published a four-page leaflet giving some facts that are rather impressive. The leaflet is called "The Avery Hopwood and Julie Hopwood Awards in Creative Writing."

The story of the awards of the last 19 years is not meant to be exhaustive, but there is enough to create the impression that the Hopwood prizes have done more than stir amateurs into creative activity.

CONTENTS ARE open in four fields of writing: Fiction, essay, drama, and poetry. In addition there are certain special contests. Individual prizes in the major contests range from $500 to $2,000. The contests are open of course, only to students enrolled at the University of Michigan.

Here is a quote from the leaflet: "Since the first awards were made in 1931 forty books have been published from prize winning manuscripts. During the same period more than one hundred books written by winners of Hopwood prizes have been published." That is, many of the winners launched out on a career of authorship and published books after they had left the university.

The leaflet prints what it calls the "Roll of a Few of Our Better Known Writers." At the top of the list is given the following: "Betty Smith won in 1931. Her first novel, 'A Tree Grows in Brooklyn,' made her widely known in the English speaking world." Doubtless many will be surprised to learn that this popular novel was a Hopwood winner. I confess it was news to me.

PERHAPS THE most distinguished novel that won a Hopwood prize is "The Loon Feather" by Tola Fuller, which won a $2,000 prize in 1939. This book, the scene of which is laid on Mackinac Island, drew a good deal of attention from the critics when it was published by a leading American house. We are told in the university leaflet that first editions of this book sell at a premium.

"It may come to be the first Hopwood Classic," the leaflet continues. I don't know quite what such a statement means, but I do agree that "The Loon Feather" deserves high praise.

Another novel that, in my opinion, is less important as a creative work of art is "Whistle Stop," by Maritta M. Wolff, which won a major award in 1940. Miss Wolff has published two novels since that time and it looks as though the Hopwood award has launched her out on a writing career.

Another writing career that has come out of the awards is that of Mildred Walker. Her book "Fire Weed" won a Hopwood prize in 1933. Since that time she has written seven novels, some of which have had a wide sale.

The success of the awards has been most notable in fiction. In drama, poetry and the essay the results have been less spectacular, although even in these fields publishing houses have taken up some of the winning manuscripts. All in all, the results of the awards are rather impressive.

Commuting Camels Have Fare Raised

NEW YORK—(AP)—Transportation costs have gone up for everybody—including camels and elephants commuting on the Weehawken Ferry. This ruling was announced by the Interstate Commerce Commission recently.

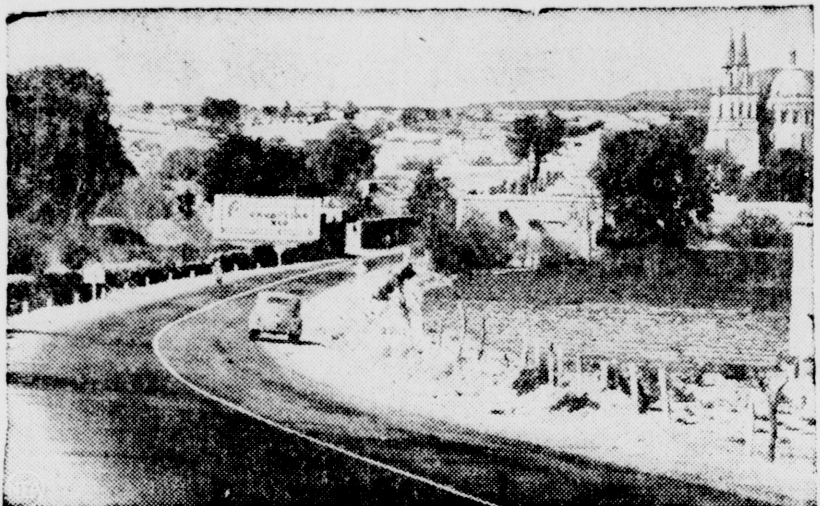

Officials of the West Shore Ferry Line which traverses the Hudson River between Weehawken, N. J. and New York City could remember only one time in recent years when an uncrated animal crossed in one of their boats. That was about a dozen years ago when a man was exhibiting an elephant in New York. He commuted every morning with the animal and returned every evening. This continued for two weeks but neither the man nor the elephant has been seen on the Weehawken Ferry since.

The I. C. C. decided to prepare against a return, however. It increased the cost of ferrying elephants, camels and other "uncrated wild animals" to 42nd Street from $1.40 to $2.80 per animal.

2178-Mile Race To Open New Pan-Am Highway

THE ROAD SOUTH: The approach to the town of Encarnacion is marked by an American-style billboard.

By NEA Service MEXICO CITY — (NEA) — Mexico's part of the Pan-American highway is now completed.

The official dedication early in May of several hundred miles of recently completed highway in Southern Mexico now leaves only three small gaps in the roadway which will eventually link Alaska with South America. And for the first time in history it gives Mexico a modern, 2178-mile highway connecting its north and southern-most boundaries.

The gaps which remain in the Pan-American road are a 25-mile stretch in northern Guatemala—under construction—a section in northwestern Costa Rica, and one in southeastern Costa Rica and western Panama.

Last year Mexico enjoyed the greatest automobile tourist trade in its history. With the completion of its north-south highway system government officials expect to see new records set. The newly-completed sections open up to auto travelers some of the most picturesque parts of the country. Discussing the new road, President Miguel Aleman gives the following credit:

"To the International Road Federation, of which the Mexican Highway Association is a sister organization, we wish to express our gratitude for the cooperation and good will shown in the great projects undertaken by the Mexican Highway Association."

The inauguration of the road will feature an automobile race from the U. S. border at El Paso, Texas, to the tiny city of El Ocotal on the Guatemalan frontier. The race will be run in eight legs, will last three days with a $17,341 first prize to the winner.

President Aleman is the official starter. The event is under the direction of the Mexican Pan-American Race Committee. It starts May 5.

Copper Capital Of U. S. Better Than In Old Days

By HAL BOYLE

BUTTE, Mont.—(AP)—Once a bartender in this copper mining capital of America got into an argument with an unfriendly customer.

Before the bartender could end the discussion he found it necessary to bite off the fellow's ear. He rose and flipped the ear on the bar an announced:

"The next round is on the house. Drink up, everybody."

This tale is typical of the old Butte. But it is also typical in a way of the new Butte.

Paydays In Silver
For Butte is still one of a half dozen men's towns left in the United States. It is a free-and-easy town, where they give you change in clinking silver dollars instead of paper bills.

It is a man's town where they take a stranger at his word until his acts prove him a liar. This might be because this is a far west melting pot of 50 nationalities, and in a town like that the only way you can judge anybody is by the simple standard: "is he a good guy?"

It might also be because miners, coming up from daylong work under temperatures ranging up to 110 degrees, don't want to hear any guff as they drink their "boilermakers"—a whisky shot chased by beer.

The basic fact remains that the atmosphere of this wide-open town is friendly—they like you until you start trouble. But if it's trouble you want, you can get it here from every direction of the compass.

Lots of Muscle

Copper comes from sweat, and sweat comes from muscle, and there is a lot of muscle in a miner. And when a miner uses his muscle against flesh instead of hard rock he can raise a mighty bruise, and quickly change the silhouette of a man with buck teeth.

But there isn't so much ear-chawing and face-stomping hereabouts as there was in the old days. There is a sign outside Butte now that advises tourists:

"She was a bold, unashamed, rootin', tootin', hell-roarin' camp in days gone by and still drinks her liquor straight."

But civilization has come to the bad, mad, glad copper camp. A half century or more ago most of the miners were single men and lived in boarding houses. Now most are married and have their own homes.

There used to be 800 to 1,000 prostitutes who paid $5 a night to rent cribs in the red light district. Today there are probably less than 50 doing a subdued unglamorous business.

More miners now would rather go square dancing or help their kids with their homework.

Butte is a changing town. It still takes pride in its ribald past—but there's plenty of it left—but it also is proud of its growing civic responsibility. You don't hear anyone bragging anymore that it has more dead men in its cemeteries than live men listed in the town directory.

It's a great place yet for a fight or a frolic, but Butte is slowly taming down—or growing up. You know what the folks are proud about today?

"It's our high school band," several men told me. "It's the best damn band in the country—150 pieces. A lot of other cities ask to hear our kids play—Pasadena, Portland, Washington. All we have to do is pass the hat, and in no time at all we can raise $20,000 or more to send them. Everybody chips in."

Grubby men lined up at the bars fork over as quickly as the people at the country club. Butte's even talking of bringing Toscanini out here—so he can lead some kids who really know music.

Grand Marais Pupils Present Mothers' Program

GRAND MARAIS — Third, fourth and fifth grade pupils of the Grand Marais school under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Forrest Carter, presented a Mother's Day program entitled "American Mothers" at the high school auditorium. The program which was part of the Woman's club meeting was open to the public.

Mrs. Rex Block was program chairman, Mrs. James Thorington was accompanist and the reader was Linda Erickson.

The program opened with a vocal solo by Joan Nyman followed by a number by a girls' chorus including Janice and Janet Peterson, Dawn Ostrander, Sharon Miller, Janet Traeger, Joan Nyman and Jeanette LaCombe. Numbers in pantomime presented with the reader and suitable background music were: Pilgrim mother, Shirley Mulligan; Martha Washington, Janice Peterson; Lincoln's mother, Judy Mulligan and Bobby Boynton; Pioneer mother, Bonnie Knutson and Charles Ylimaki; Indian mother, Loretta Drust; "Today's Mother, Helen Ann LaCombe and Adrienne Kallio.

Another chorus number closed the program.

Refreshments were served the cast by the Woman's club hostesses, Mrs. Rex Block, Mrs. Louie Roberts and Mrs. Theodore Senecal.

The Woman's club held a business meeting and social after the program.

RAPID RIVER—Mrs. Walter Olson of Gladstone accompanied by her mother, Mrs. William J. Miller and sister, Mrs. Clarence Short of Pasadena, Calif., motored to Ishpeming Sunday to visit Mrs. Harry Beeby and little daughter, of Negaunee, at Ishpeming hospital. Mrs. Beeby was formerly taught in the Rapid River schools. The visitors reported high snow banks between Negaunee and Marquette and they noted a number of men shoveling snow.

Mrs. Victoria Columb has returned home after spending the winter with her two daughters, Mrs. Charles Burton and Mrs. J. Jacobson, and their families in Gladstone.

Guests Sunday at the C. E. Hamilton home were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hamilton and two children of Marinette and Mrs. J. M. Young and son, John of Menominee.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wickstrom returned home last week after spending the winter at the Wynand Nieuwenkamp home in Gladstone.

The condition of Miss Phyllis Grandchamps, a patient at St. Francis hospital, is reported slightly improved. J. R. Boyer, Rapid River, and Ed Deneau of Masonville also are showing improvement. Mr. Boyer and Mr. Deneau are surgical patients.

Arthur King of Gladstone and David and Roger King of Rapid River who went to Montana to work in the mines have returned home. They were not satisfied with conditions as they found them there.

Miss Donna King has taken a position in the ticket office of the

B. and D. Drive-in theatre. Mrs. Schuyler Bartholomew and son have returned to Garden after a visit at the Louis Thibault home. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mills of Osier and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Thibault of Maplewood were guests Sunday at the Louis Thibault home.

Mrs. Blanche Tienert of Ensign is spending several days at the Art Tienert home in Masonville and is confined to the house with an attack of flu.

Miss Elaine Lind returned Sunday from Rochester, Minn., where she had a medical check-up at the Mayo clinic.

Mrs. Elmer Sjostrom and daughter, Gloria, arrived from Detroit Saturday to visit with Mrs. Sjostrom's mother, Mrs. Marie Lindberg, Masonville.

Long Island Blaze Burns 2500-Foot Gap In Railway Trestle

NEW YORK—(AP)—A spring gale drove a million-dollar fire down Jamaica bay's four-mile wooden rail trestle early Monday and burned out a 2,500-foot gap in the mid-section.

The long, low span is the Long Island railroad's main link between the New York City mainland in Queens and the Rockaway sections along the Atlantic ocean. The wide bay kept fire engines confined to each end of the span, while at the same time the water was too shallow to float the city's big fireboats.

Firemen had to drag thousands of feet of hose down the trestle on motor handcars.

Total damage was set at $1,250,000.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Mud Lake Gets "Cleared Up"

County officers got a notice from the government not long ago, asking them to change the name of Mud Lake. Seems it's a pond, not a lake, by government standards.

Because it lies entirely inside our town limits, we asked to do the name-changing ourselves. Figured we'd think up a brand-new name. Mud Lake's really not very muddy—sort of pretty, in fact.

County people said go ahead, so we held a Town Meeting. Everyone suggested something. Windy Taylor thought "Taylor Pond" would be nice, because his place borders it—for about 30 feet! But we finally decided to call it "Turtle Pond" in honor of the real owners.

From where I sit, naming that pond wasn't the most important thing in the world—but the way we did it was. Everyone offered his opinion and then the majority vote decided it. That's the way it should be—whether it concerns naming a pond, or having the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer or ale—if and when we choose.

Clown Club At Library During Month Of June

Plans for a clown club during the month of June to encourage boys and girls to read good books were announced today by Miss Betty M. Harris, children's librarian at Carnegie public library.

The membership is open to children from the 4th through the 8th grades. Upon joining they will receive a clown card. For each book read 2 colored dots will be placed on the clown's suit. When 15 books have been read the member will have completed requirements of the club and will be eligible for the special surprise to be given at the end of the month. There will be no special book list. All that is necessary is that the books chosen be of interest to the reader and be on his reading level.

Registration for club membership may be made at the librarian's desk in the children's room from May 22 to May 31.

The club is similar to the vacation travel reading club for

Miss Remington,
Former Nahma
Resident, Bride

NAHMA—Of interest to residents of the community is the marriage of Miss Marvel Catherine Remington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Remington, 15408 Littlefield, Detroit, former residents of Nahma, and George Biess of Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Biess, 4782 Chopin, which took place April 29 in Precious Blood church with Rev. William Fournier, celebrant of the 10 o'clock nuptial high mass.

Soloist of the mass was Margaret Connelly.

Miss Nancy Remington was her sister's maid of honor and Patricia Biess was bridesmaid. Robert Biess served as best man. William Remington ushered.

The bride's gown was of white slipper satin styled with a Peter Pan collar, long sleeves, tiny buttons down the front of a fitted bodice and a full skirt ending in a long train. Her fingertip veil of tulle was caught to a cap of seed pearls and satin. She carried a white prayer book covered with a white orchid and ivy. The maid of honor and bridesmaid wore similar gowns of pale green and orchid tulle with white picture hats and they carried nosegays of spring flowers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Remington wore navy crepe with pink accessories and a pink corsage. Mrs. Biess also wore navy crepe with white accessories and a white corsage.

Following the ceremony a breakfast for 50 guests was served at the home of the bride and later a reception for 175 guests was held at the Macabee hall.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at 15728 Steel. Mr. Biess is employed at the DeSoto plant in Detroit.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Ed Tobin and Mrs. Melvin Druding of Nahma and Mr. and Mrs. William DeWitt of Grand Rapids.

Busy Bees Meeting
Held Last Night

The Busy Bees home economics club met last evening at the home of Mrs. Harlan Meunier for a lesson on lampshades given by Mrs. Roach Kidd and Mrs. Nap Morin. Plans were discussed for achievement day June 1, the summer camp at Chatham, June 26, and the program for the coming year. A report on gardening was given by Mrs. Kidd. A collection was taken for the German home economics exchange student, which the groups are sponsoring.

Social Situations

You are a high school or college girl applying for work during the summer months.

WRONG WAY: When applying for the job wear the type of clothes you wear to school. Go hatless, wearing loafers, sweater and skirt, etc.

RIGHT WAY: Dress like a business girl, if you want to land a job.

Keep a box of dried apricots handy for after-school snacks for the children. They'll enjoy prunes and raisins eaten out-of-hand, too.

HERE'S a picture of Mom trying to decide whether to go to the sea shore or the mountains for a vacation. Whatever she decides, it looks like Dad won't like it. But he'll have his day (Father's Day, June 18th)! Right now we're thinking about HER day on Sunday. And wherever Mother travels she'll love to have a handy sewing kit to pack in that suit case. I found just the thing this week at the Fair Store. A petite leather case that comes in several pretty colors and holds scissors, thimble, thread, darning cotton, and needles. Only $1.50 for this little gift that will keep her in stitches!

ALL teenagers have a hard time trying to illumine their ignorant parents! That day may be over for you, but perhaps you'd still like to throw a little light on the subject with a gift of a modern lamp for Mom's living room. The Home Supply Co. has an amazing array! I saw one blonde wood base, slender and graceful, topped with a stunning shade in yellow satin edged in light green braid. An unusual tall cone-shaped shade in a rosy red is combined with a shiny crockery base of gray and black (suitable for the Mama with a modern viewpoint!) More conservative is a set of grey lamps with a cylinder shape for both base and shade. A raised white flower decorates the base, white leaves the shade. Visit the Home Supply — make it a shining Mother's Day She'll always remember!

THERE'S a Spring Variety Show at the NaEnamel Paint Store—920 Ludington. I was surprised to learn just what a wide variety of paint they have! There are three grades in every kind of paint, enamel and varnish. That means "A paint for every purpose" — a price for every pocketbook! Prices start at 98¢ a qt. and up. I hope you'll phone 1887 for a free delivery when you start slicking things up at your house!

GET off the shelf! If it's a modern refrigerator you're looking for, see the Crosley Shalvador at the Quality Home Furniture Store. Those handy shelves built in the door mean more food at your finger tips; in front-in sight-in reach! As low as $189.95 for a 7 cubic foot model. Sister, that's for me!

MOTHER has faced many a situation in her day! Help her to face things today with lots of poise because she has a lovely powder compact from Blomstrom and Petersen. Takes the gleam off her nose and puts it into her eyes! Also at B. and P. I admired again those gifts of merit every woman will cherish—sterling silver. Beautiful serving dishes and flatware in almost every pattern. Show her genuine affection with a gift of sterling!

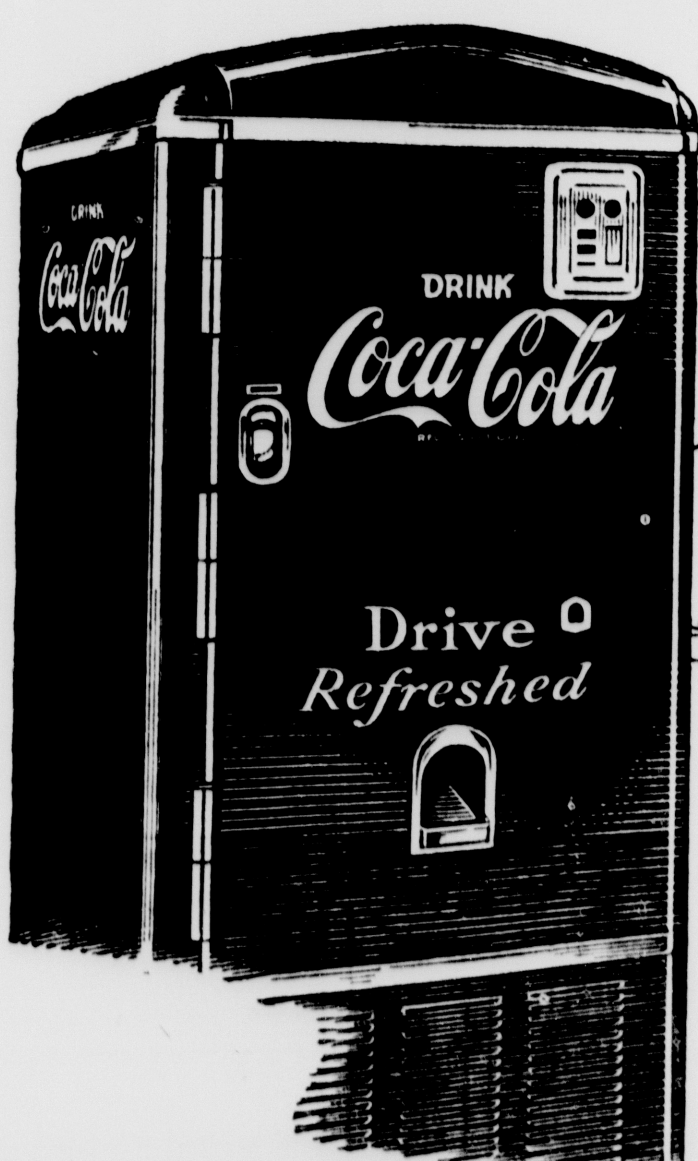

CHANCES are Mother has a sweet tooth just like her children and grandchildren. Then why not indulge just that and give her the kind of present every woman loves—candy. All done up with an artificial carnation and green satin ribbons are the famous Whitman Sampler boxes at the City Drug—$2 or $4 sizes. Fairhill chocolates, $1.50. A sweet present for a sweet lady!

I'M singing the praises of a famous quartet — four fragrances of Dana's Solid Cologne; Tabu, Emir, 20 Carats, and Platine. One brief encounter with a solid cologne will have you singing too. It's tingling touch on your wrist or your forehead will really send you—that is to say, you've been scent! Gust Asp has this unusual gift for Mother—long lasting fragrance of note. She'll love you for it!

COLD weather's on the go—Spring can't be very far. See! Roses in the snow! Down at Vagn's Bakery Bar! Vagn's Mother's Day treat is the Roses-in-the-Snow cake. Moist coconut frosting a white layer cake. Centering it all is a deep red plastic rose that can be used as a brooch later. Yes, it's beautiful, and really luscious. Order one today and get Mother out of the kitchen this week end!

THEY gave me the slip! And what a slip! I underwear it came from? Penney's, of course! With Mother in mind I hope you stop and shop at that tantalizing counter I looked at this afternoon. Those adorable white cottons in batiste or broadcloth, only $1.98. Those rayon multi-filament (whew!) slips at only $2.98. The ever popular nylons trimmed with lace for $3.98. Don't slip up this Mother's Day—see you at Penney's!

C-C Will Name New Directors

Nomination Group Chosen On Monday

Plans for an election of directors of the newly formed Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce, the successor to the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce, were made at a special meeting of the acting board of directors, Monday night.

President Len Harbick appointed a committee who will make nominations in each of the four divisions, namely: retail; tourist or guest division; industry, utility and wholesale; and the general improvement division. Three directors are to be elected from each of these divisions, as well as one to represent the city; one to be elected from the county board; and one from the newly formed Civic Improvement Council. Those elected will make up the personnel of the fifteen man board of the new Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

The committee was instructed to place in nomination, a large number of candidates from which the members can choose their representation.

"Ballots will be sent to all members in the next few days," said William H. (Bill) Frederick, who has been retained as executive secretary and manager of the new organization.

"A spirited membership drive has been started with the acting board spear-heading the campaign," Frederick added. "From the first commitments, the drive should prove highly successful, and assure the necessary funds to carry out the projects planned," he said.

German Forestry Men Spent Week End In Manistique

A number of forestry officials and scientists from Germany sojourned in Manistique over the weekend, the guests of Russell Watson and of George Schweikert, spending part of their stay here at the Schweikert hunting camp at West Branch.

In the party were Count Siegfried von der Recke, of Frankfurt; Dr. Georg Ferst, Munich; Karl-Hein Odeken, Bad Harzburg.

These men are making a tour of America studying forestry methods as guests of the U. S. government.

Mr. Watson had met these men while on his European trip last summer.

County Betterment Council Launched Here Monday Night

Formal launching of a new organization to be known as the Schoolcraft County Community Betterment Council was effected at a meeting held in the commercial room of Manistique high school Monday evening.

The organization, which is a continuation of one of the departments created through the efforts of the extension department of the University of Michigan, will have for its chief objective cooperation with organizations working for community betterment.

It will be the aim of the council to make a study of various civic and governmental agencies at work in the community and lend assistance when such a course is deemed advisable.

Preliminary to the organization session, Joseph Gucky, of Stephenson, addressed those present on the effectiveness of a similar organization in his community.

Officers were elected with the following being named: Russell Watson, president; Lester Carson, of Germfask, vice president; Clayton Reid, secretary; and Fred Hahne, treasurer.

Constitution and by-laws will be drawn up at a later date.

U. P. DEBATE CHAMPS—The Manistique High School Debate team, which recently won the Upper Michigan championship in a debate tournament in which schools from all parts of this area are competing for further honors in the state debate tournament at Ann Arbor Monday and Tuesday.

Winning the Ann Arbor debate honors is a matter of particular concern to Dan Van Eyck and Miss Sheahan because the reward is an extremely valuable University of Michigan scholarship. The other members of the team are not eligible for these scholarships because the awards are open only to seniors. (Photo Bradley Studio)

Style Show Saturday To Emphasize Cancer Drive

Final preparations are being made for the Cancer Drive Style Show to be held on Saturday, May 13 at 8 p. m. in the Manistique high school auditorium.

There will be an interesting and beautiful selection of summer styles for all ages. Lauer-mans, The Peoples Store, Garber's and the Penney store have been extremely cooperative and generous in providing dresses, suits, coats and playclothes. The show will open with styles for children followed by fashions for teen-agers, the young set and the older women.

The stage decoration committee consisting of Mrs. George Schweikert, Mrs. John Quick and Mrs. William Bays, have planned an unusual and very attractive setting. Throughout the show there will be a background of music played by Mrs. Arthur Hall at the piano and Carl Olson on the violin. During the parade of the models, Mrs. Sidney Bouwer, who with Mrs. Edwin Thompson, is co-chairman of the style show, will discuss the styles as they are shown and fashion points in general.

Posters publicizing the show were made by high school students and Girl Scouts; the winners of the high school poster contest being Misses Crystelle Reid and Donna McGregor, first and second prizes respectively.

The various committees have worked and are working hard to present a spectacular style show and it is hoped for a big and generous response from the public to this community effort for the benefit of the Cancer fund drive.

Another Radio Show Booked At Armory

By popular request, the Pappy Kleber radio show and dance band from Menominee, which proved so entertaining several weeks will again return to Manistique on June 10 at the National Guard Armory.

The event, under the auspices of the local VFW Auxiliary to Post 4120, was planned for that date in order that all high school and college students may celebrate the beginning of their summer vacation.

Lunch will again be served by the local National Guard company.

The committee in charge is: Mrs. John Vaughan, chairman, Mrs. Clarence LaMuth, Mrs. Albert Ackerman and Mrs. Earl Malloch, sr.

Home Ec Clubs To Hear State College Expert

Schoolcraft County Home Economics clubs will discuss adolescent adjustments at their achievement program, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Lennah K. Backus, Extension Specialist in Parent Education and Child Development, from Michigan State College will lead the discussion.

"In living with adolescents," says Mrs. Backus, "we are dealing with a group who are soon to be adults. Out of their experiences and impressions they are gaining an idea of what it is like to be an adult. As parents we should display the kind of understanding and patience which will make adulthood seem to them both desirable and practical."

"Groups of young people say that they would like to be able to talk things over with their parents, that they would like their advice especially in important matters. This does not mean constant direction and probing into details which are usually of no great importance except to the young person himself. Young people also say that they would like from their parents more trust, more interest, and more respect for their own ideas."

Mrs. Backus adds, "if we are to meet these and other needs of the adolescent we can begin by attempting to understand the adolescent within our family. In addition we will want to know what most adolescents are like, so that we can help all youth make a better adjustment in this business of growing up."

The spring achievement program will be held at the Birthday grange hall, starting at 6:30 p. m., with a pot luck supper. About 200 homemakers and their husbands are expected to attend.

Capacity Crowd Attends School House Warming

Friends, neighbors and well-wishers packed the Mueller township school auditorium to its capacity at the dedication exercises Saturday evening.

The early part of the evening was given over to inspection of the structure. This was followed by a formal program in the auditorium.

William J. Sheahan, who gave the main address of the evening, congratulated patrons of the school on the fine new structure and other educational facilities the district affords and stated that where education and enlightenment exists Communism hasn't a chance.

Following the program refreshments were served in the school's model dining room.

Following is the program:

No Decision On Salary Question

Budget Hearing Set For Monday, May 22

The question of salary increases for city employees was discussed at a meeting of the city commission Monday evening but no decision was reached on the matter. The question will again be taken up at the next regular meeting of the commission on May 22.

On that evening the public hearing on the budget will be held. Originally announced as scheduled for Monday, May 8, hearing on the annual estimate was postponed two weeks when it was found that the May 8 date would not allow sufficient time between publication of the budget and the public hearing to comply with charter requirements.

Approval was granted August Mattison Post, American Legion, to bring a carnival to Gladstone June 12-18, but it was specified that the show could not be set up on park property. The post had requested a bay shore location.

Payment of a bill for calcium chloride of $1100.00 to the Dow Chemical company was approved.

Bernard DeHooghe, sewage treatment plant operator, was authorized to attend a sewage work meet at Traverse City on May 22-24.

Honor Mrs. Wixom At Farewell Party

Mrs. Willard Wixom, principal of the Kipling school, who is leaving at the close of the school term for Marquette, Mich., to make her home, was honored on Monday night by the PTA and School Board members of Kipling and Brampton townships, at a farewell party.

The party was held after the PTA meeting and cards and games were played with honors in five hundred going to Mrs. Robert Michéau. Mrs. Eldore Miller was high in games.

Lunch was served at the close of the festivities and Mrs. Wixom was presented with several gifts. An apple blossom theme formed the decorations. A large, three tiered cake, iced in pink, green and yellow, centered the serving table with large green candles placed in the center of the cake and colored streamers forming a Maypole with crepe paper dolls of colonial design holding the streamers. The table was covered with a green crepe paper cloth and edged with a yellow fence.

Suit Catches Fire, Mother Saves Child

Little Patty Meyer, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Meyer, 1314 Michigan avenue, had a narrow escape Sunday.

The Meyers family were guests at the Calvin Cunningham cottage at Nahma and the children were having fun roasting marshmallows.

Patty left the other children and came to where her mother was standing, remarking as she came on how hot it was. It was then that her mother noticed her snowsuit was burning and beat out the flames with her hands.

When the flames were out the back of Patty's snow suit was gone, a corduroy jacket burned through and her dress scorched.

Her hair in back also was singed. However, she was unharmed.

Mrs. Meyer sustained minor burns in extinguishing the fire. Just how the snowsuit caught fire is still unknown, but it is possible that a burning marshmallow started the fire.

Employees of Soo Line Form Club

Organization of a Soo Line Employees club was completed and permanent officers named at a meeting held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at the city hall.

J. E. Trombley was elected president, Herb Tumath vice president and Reuben Sjoquist secretary-treasurer and Theresa Kennedy corresponding secretary. Al Brusoe and Sam Heslip were named to the board of directors.

The organization is purely for social purposes and is non-political.

All employees of the Gladstone division of the Soo Line are eligible to become members. All joining within the next 30 days are to be considered charter members. Retired employees are being accorded honorary membership.

It was definitely decided to hold a railroad employees picnic during the summer months.

Joint Meeting Of Lions Thursday

A joint meeting of Lions clubs of Rock, Cornell and Gladstone is to be held at the Yacht club here Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Marking the gathering will be the initiation of new members into the three clubs with a team from the Escanaba Lions club headed by Norman Dahlke in charge.

Coffee Aids Sick Calves Get Well

ATKINSON, Neb.—(AP)—Brother farmer, can you spare a cup of coffee for a sick calf? Albert Lemmer found it to be literally a life saver.

During a recent cold snap Lemmer found two newborn calves almost dead of exposure. He brewed a pot of coffee and fed it to them in a pop bottle.

Soon after the first calf got his coffee "it could stand up and bawl and I knew that it would make it," Lemmer said. Now the calfman brews a fresh pot of coffee whenever he finds a newborn calf suffering from the effects.

Christian clergymen in Japan, both ordained and unordained, totaled 6,129 as of June 30, 1949. Mt. Etna is 10,741 feet high.

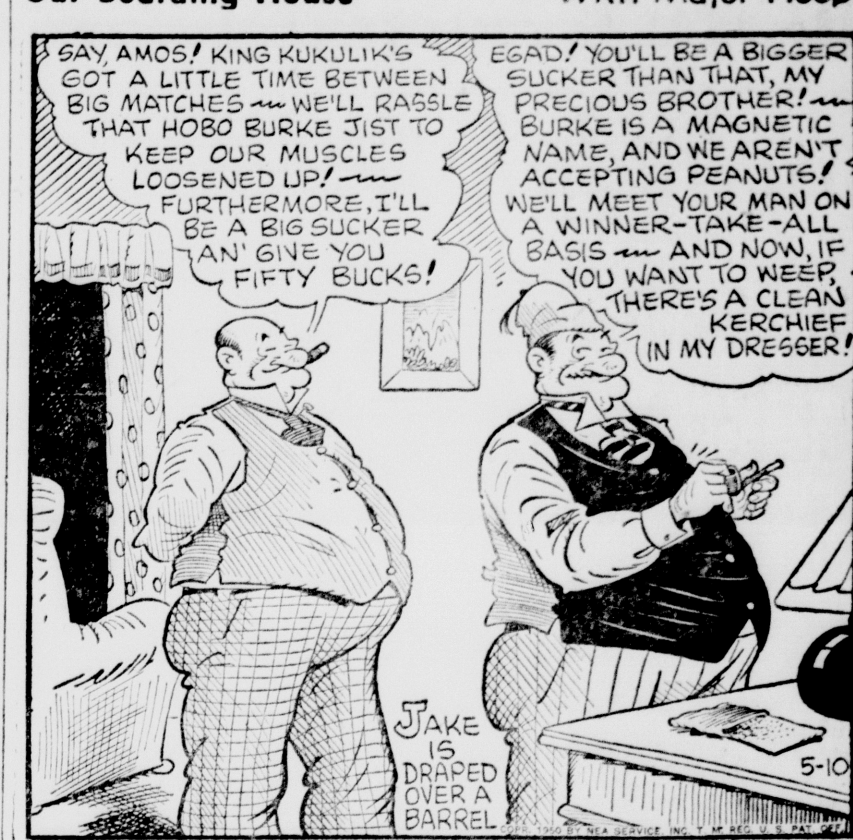

Total timber resources in the public domain in the U. S. are estimated at between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000 in value.

Muffler That Roars Newest Hot-Rod Fad

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Another trademark of the twenties, along with the Charleston and the uke, is doing a Rip Van Winkle. The full-throated roar of a tampered muffler is back again.

But this time the urge for the motorboat throbs isn't left to the fancy of the fad. It's being propelled commercially.

The general name for these fugitives from a sound laboratory are Hollywood mufflers. That's because the revival started around the west coast colony.

Costs About $4
The craze gradually moved east, picking up momentum as it went, until it reached the eastern seaboard in recognizable form a month ago.

Somewhere along the line the business world caught the scent and is turning it into a major item in the accessories line.

The Hollywood muffler makes the average automobile sound like a souped-up racer. According to one manufacturer, "it's here, it's different, it's dynamite."

You can agree with the last without the slightest hesitation. One type, selling for about $4, is demonstrated right in the store on recordings.

You put the record on. First there's a roar. A cabin cruiser, you think. Then a voice, packed with evangelistic fervor, breaks in.

"That's the... muffler, that gives your car that deep-throated roar of rich, smooth power!"
A deep-throated roar of rich, smooth power follows. Then the voice:

"Listen to that! Sounds like that just don't happen."
Then the voice explains just how this type of muffler was scientifically developed and laboratory tested.

"It takes out that high-pitched exhaust noise," assures the voice, "and brings out the deep rumbling tone that means real power."

More real power.

Sounds Pretty Snappy
The conventional muffler is a pipe pocked with holes surrounded by absorbent material and encased in a larger pipe.

The Hollywood variant just skips some of the packing, explained one dealer, to get that power-surge sound.

A Maryland law—similar to those of most states—prohibits the use of "a muffler cutout, bypass or similar device upon a motor vehicle."

But a dealer quickly pointed out that a Hollywood muffler is a true muffler, so the law shouldn't apply.

The general manager of the Automobile Club of Maryland, Leonard E. Kolmer, had this to say about the newest retreat to the twenties:

"Oh, no!"
He settled back, reflected for a moment, then laughed:

"You know, I had a cutout on the first car I ever owned. That was in 1916... the first Dodge roadster ever sold in Frederick county."

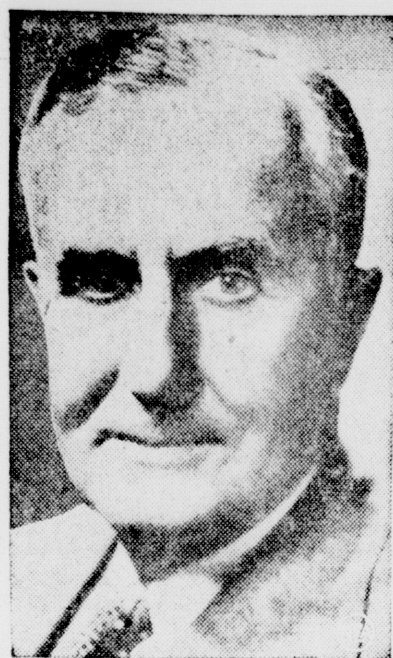

Another grin, and—
"Between you and me, it sounded pretty snappy."

Principal Promoted At Menominee School

MENOMINEE, Mich. — (AP) — Miles W. Robinson, Menominee high school principal for the past two years, was elevated to the superintendency of schools by the Board of Education.

Robinson succeeds Cecil E. MacDonald, who has resigned effective July 1 to become superintendent of schools at East Lansing, Mich.

Minnesota and the Dakotas produce 72 per cent of the flax crop of the United States.

C. OF C. HEAD — Otto A. Seyferth, above, a manufacturer of Muskegon, Mich., was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at the organization's annual meeting in Washington. Seyferth is a former labor-union organizer.

STOMACH DISTRESS PLUS ARTHRITIS TORTURED ME AND MADE LIFE MISERABLE

The following testimonial of Mr. David Antisdal, 68 years a resident of 201 Canal Street, Niles, Michigan, is true and was given freely without pay in gratitude for wonderful results that he has received from O-JIB-WA BITTERS.

The large number of satisfied users that have publicly endorsed O-JIB-WA BITTERS because of what it has personally done for them is convincing proof that this famous all herb medicine warrants your trial. On the strength of Mr. Antisdal's testimonial, we urge every sufferer, to seriously consider this great medicine. NOW, WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY.

Mr. Antisdal's Testimonial Follows:
"It is hard for me to realize that I now feel so good. Just a few months ago, I was practically flat on my back with Arthritis. I had sharp and awful pains in my hips and legs which were so severe that I couldn't control my muscles or limbs. It was all I could do to pull myself out of bed in the morning and once I was up, I had to use crutches to get around the house in order to navigate at all. I tried several medicines with little results, before finally trying O-JIB-WA BITTERS, which was quite a surprise, as in just 10 days I had relief and in about 30 days was practically free of all pain and stiffness."

GOODMAN, GROSS, CITY, PEOPLES DRUG STORES IN ESCANABA, IVORY DRUG IN GLADSTONE, PUTNAM DRUG, SIDDALL'S DRUG IN MANISTIQUE.

also suffered miserably with Stomach trouble for the last 12 years. It seemed that everything I ate turned to gas and sometimes I bloated up as much as 10 inches, and never was able to find anything that did as much good as O-JIB-WA BITTERS. For it really helped my stomach condition too. Now I can eat anything without fear of gas and have a good natural appetite."

Blessed Relief in 10 Days
"O-JIB-WA BITTERS is a wonderful tonic. I feel better in every way. I only hope that I will always be able to get O-JIB-WA, as I wouldn't want to be without it again. I have many friends who are taking it at the present time, and they also recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS as strongly as I."

ATTENTION PLEASE
We the makers of O-JIB-WA BITTERS, wish to thank Mr. Antisdal and the many other users of our product, who so graciously endorse O-JIB-WA without reward because of what it has done for them.

No medicine being sold today for Rheumatism and Arthritis has received such public acclaim and enthusiastic recommendation by its users than O-JIB-WA BITTERS. The reason for this is because O-JIB-WA is not just a plain deacidifier as are so many tablets on the market today, containing primarily asprin and salicylates. O-JIB-WA works through the blood stream and loosens stiff joints to relieve the distressing pain, even when the stiffness has become deep seated. O-JIB-WA BITTERS has a tonic effect on the stomach, liver, kidneys and nervous system. O-JIB-WA is quick in action and in most cases aids in correcting the cause of these horrible agonies. Regardless of what you have tried without results, you owe it to yourself to try this great all herb medicine. Don't give up hope. Don't put off. Give O-JIB-WA BITTERS a chance to help you. Available at all leading drug stores in Michigan and especially recommended by
